I am as a child,
Awaiting my moment of Opportunity . . .

Robyn Halvorson

See all the little children
So open and honest,
Hiding nothing,
Trusting all.
As I watch them
Through the eyes of
The many artificial masks I wear,
Hiding behind fronts,
Secure within
the mighty walls I have built;
(yet trapped and insecure)
Mistrusting, and hiding much,
safe within my shell. . .
I wonder.
I wonder at what I see;
the children,
so happy, so innocent to the world's ugliness, and pain inflicting components.
so free. . .
Robyn C. Halvorson

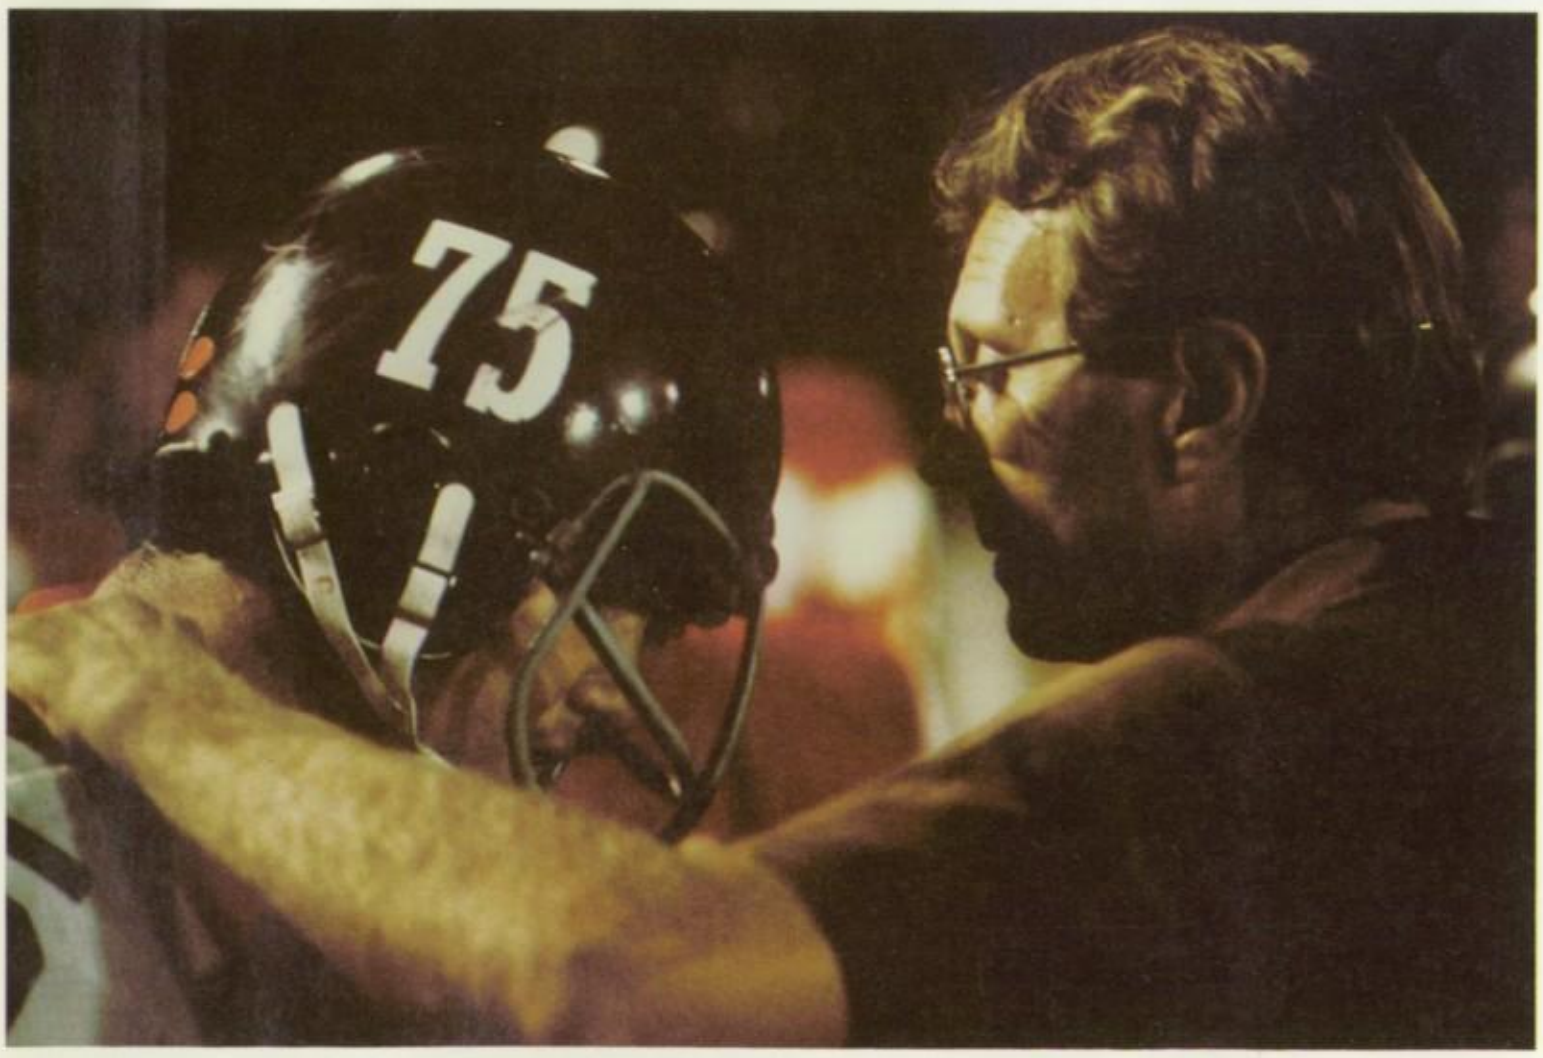

I find myself climbing,
Climbing so high.
Yet, what I am conquering
Is still jetting high
But if you help me.
We can win over all.
We'll strive and fight
To achieve our goal.
Yet what is this prize
That we work to find,
The answer, tis true,
Should be known
So onward we fight
And strive and struggle
So that our answer
Will come with tomorrow.

Janet Henry

Another year of school
And trying to act cool;
More new faces,
More new places,
More happy times when everything rhymes
More sad times when I'd like to give up,
But when it's all said and done,
I guess it was kinda fun.

PISS ON THE PANTHE

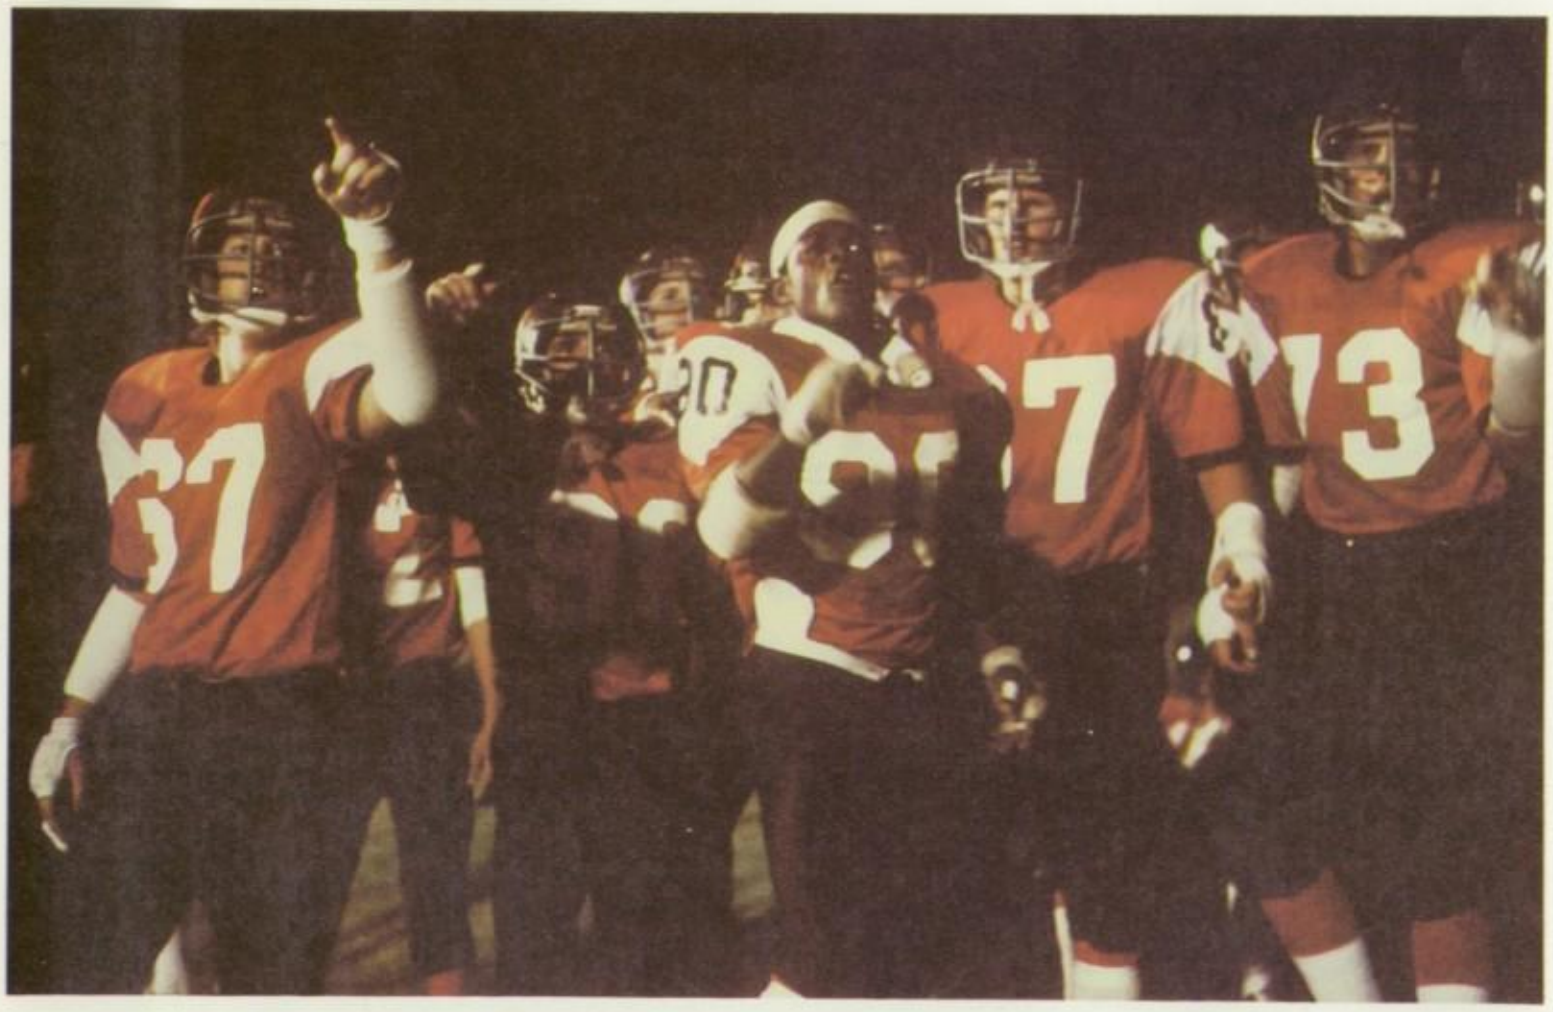

Today I saw the sun rise,
As bright as a prism,
And as promising as the rainbows reflected.
Rolls of white billowing clouds floated slowly,
Lighting the sky with the sweetness of cotton candy.
And while watching the awesome beauty,
I realized that there is a time for everything.
There's a time for learning,
For excercising our minds and our souls.
There's a time to grow fully to our ability.
We step into adulthood grasping youthful dreams,
Holding on to those from childhood;
Cherishing memories and moments
From childhood days,
Hoping to salvage something useful . . .
Time is on our side.
We, the young people have the time and strength
For becoming anything we want to be.
We can,
If we think we can.

Robyn Halvorson

Friendly greetings, Kind words,
A genuine smile or two,
And warmth and radiance
In passerbys are few.

Robyn C. Halvorson

Just as a fragile butterfly
Fresh from the cocoon
Suns himself,
Gentle fanning his wings
Is startled suddenly,
And takes flight . . .

Robyn C. Halvorson

Look up to the stars
Think not of what you are:
dream
Of what you can be.

I feel a need to cast away
all the thoughts
of other days.
To dream a while
and think and swell with thoughts of love and truth
and care.
I have time
for precious hopes of future days
endless ways of learning growing and sharing.
And with these hopes
I echo a life. . .
Tomorrow's test begins.

Spare time

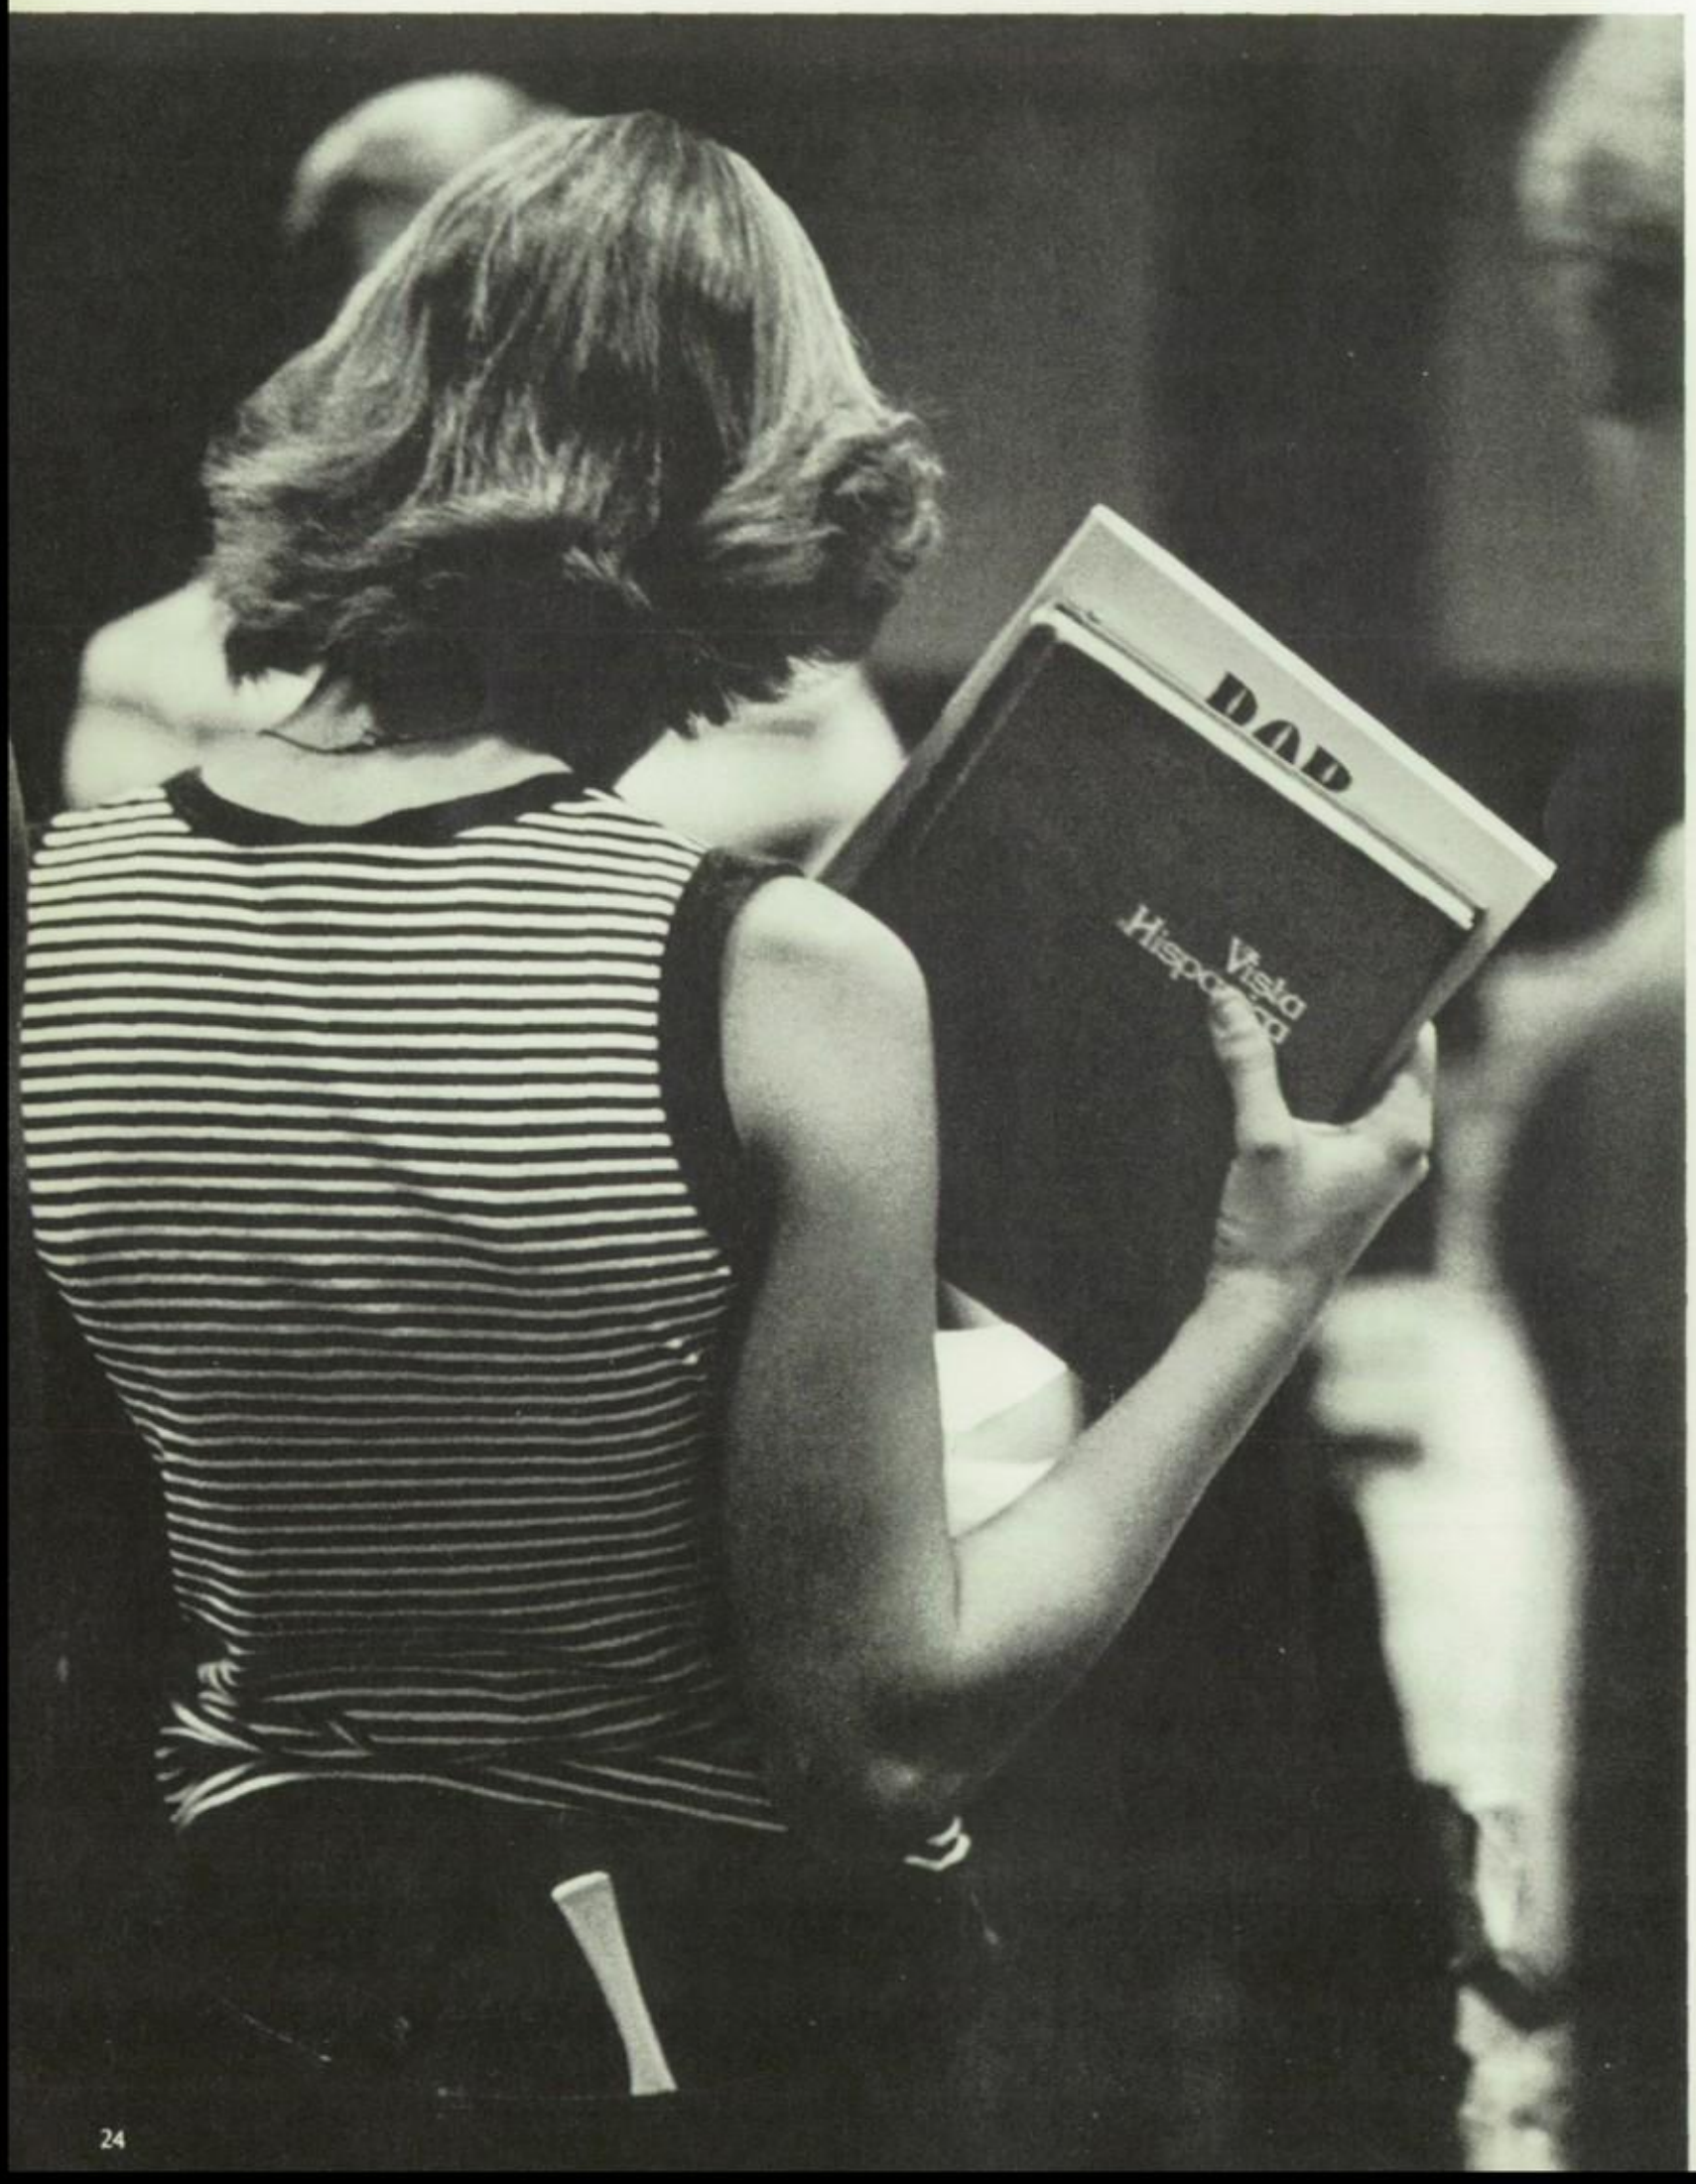

"What do you do in your spare time?" That was the question put to several of our Trevor Browne students. What came of it would chill the hearts of all parents. Senior Steve Henry replied "I ride my motorcycle in desert races 'cause I like to play in the mud!!" Sophomore Lydia Sweetland summed it up by saying "What free time?" These were followed by countless others. But in actuality T.G.B. students favorite pastimes were going to the movies, waterballoning, keggers out in the desert, going to see Rocky Horror Picture show one million times, eating and the ever popular state fair and "Cruising Central."

"I play in the mud."

"We're gonna do this
'Till we get it right!"

The computer age dawned at Browne with registration for the 1978-1979 school year. The bugs won. Hundreds of students found themselves stranded in classes they neither wanted or were prepared for.

These same students joined the seemingly neverending lines of the re-registration. New courses and new schedules, new teachers and new books, taught Browne students the meaning of the word "flexible."

My name is Anne Frank . . .

"The diary of Anne Frank" the first dramatic production of the year was well received in more ways than one. The success of the Diary of Anne Frank had a lot to do with the new Director, Jim Hayden. Because of his guidence, the performance was exceptionally moving and a great success. Praise should not be left to the director alone, outstanding performances were shown by Sam Beeson, Lynn Hildebrandt, Linda Brooks and Kit Gamble.

"A Christmas Song" Brings Yuletide Smiles

Yuletide spirit reigned high as students from all parts of the school came together to produce the most successful Christmas assembly yet! Along with our own, entertaining the overflowing lecture halls, alumni Randy Braunberger brought a smile to all, by singing the favorite "A Christmas song."

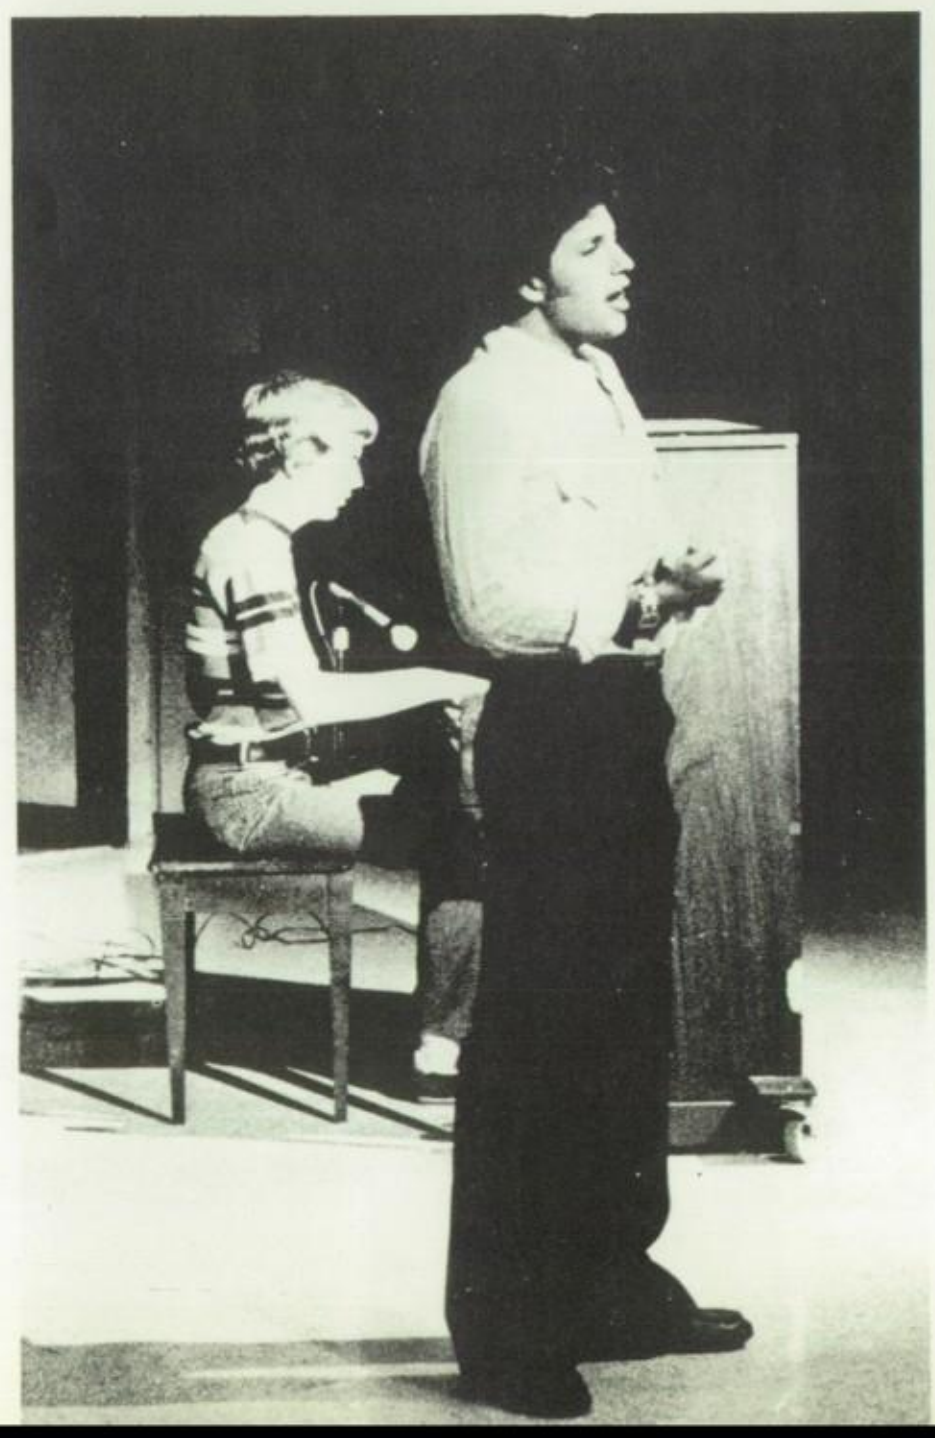

Outstanding preformances where shown by the drama department, House 2 and 3 and the dance classes. New Stars were born as Cindy Darnell, Cy Joy, Duane Lavery, Robyn Halvorson, Brad Robson, Janet Henry, Donna and Alecia Farnsworth, Phil DeLao and Tim Boling danced, sang, and hugged their way into everyone's hearts.

Free time gets shorter as periods lengthen

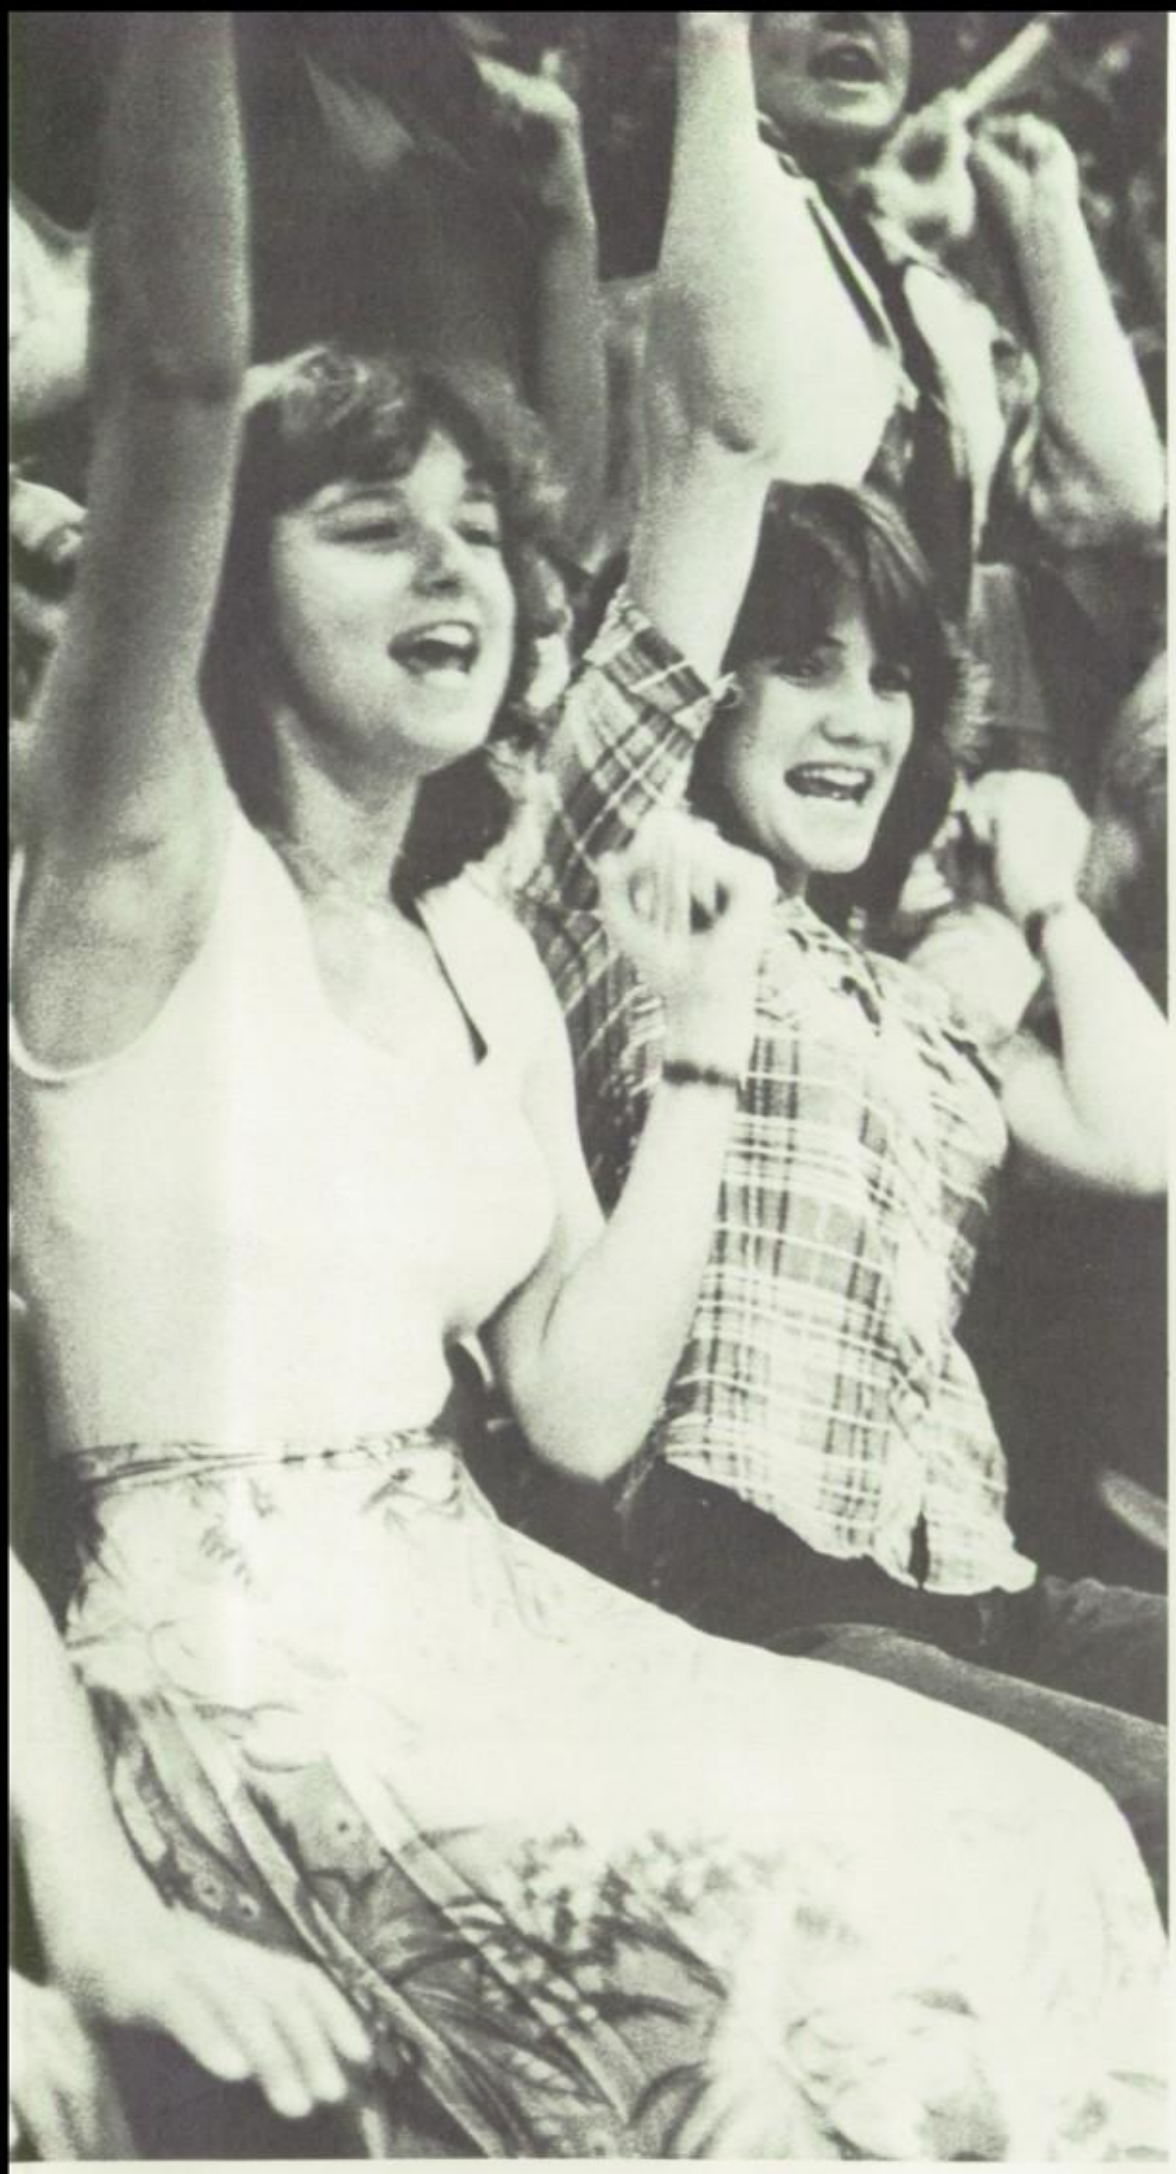

The new seven period day with longer class periods dictated a year with less "free time" for Browne students.

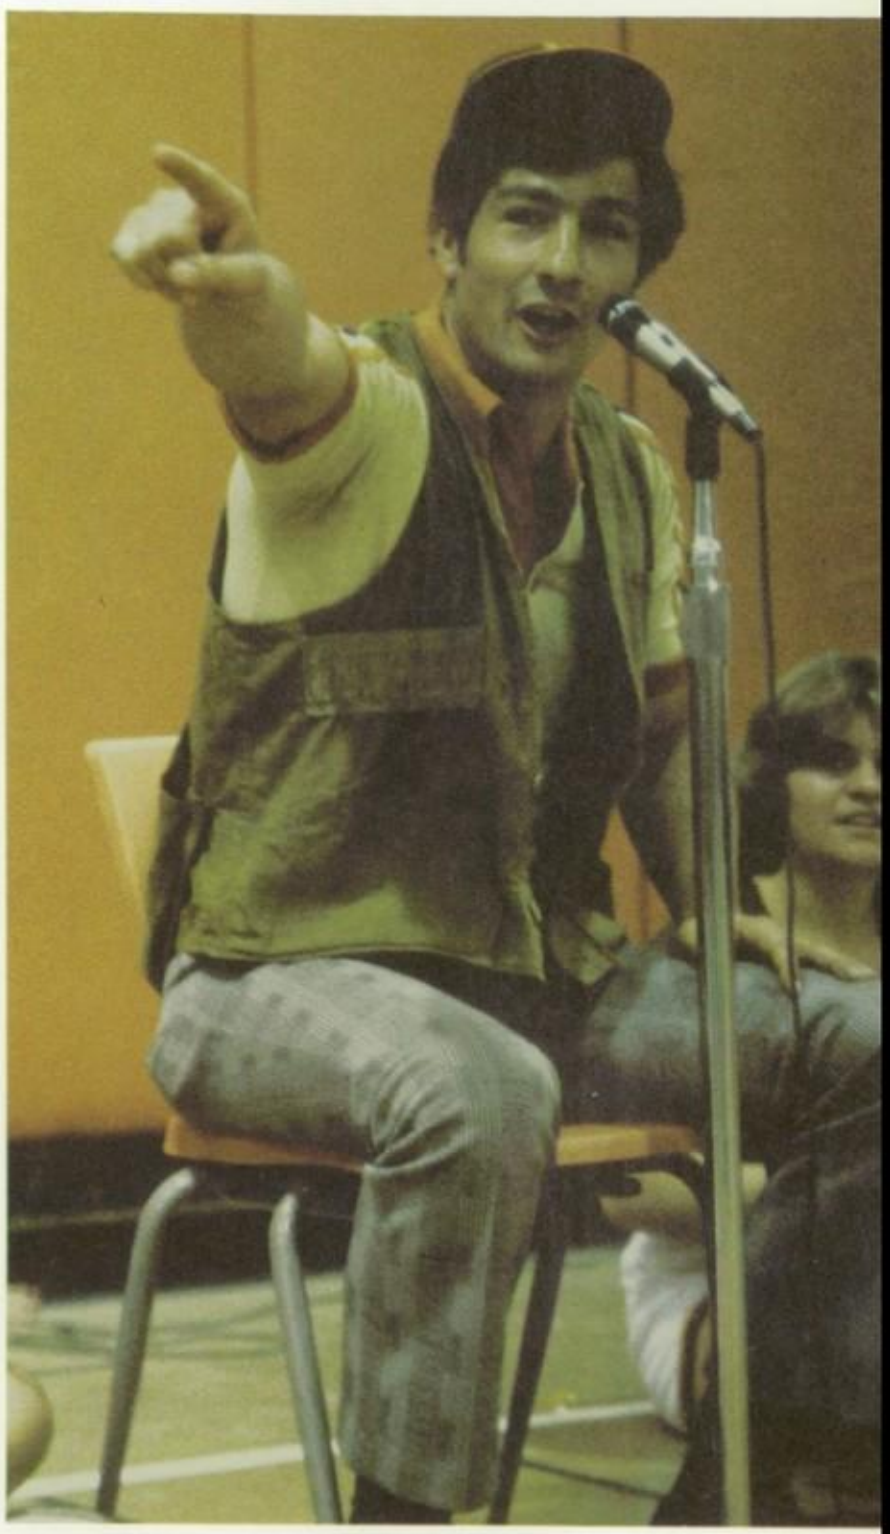

The trees, long a favorite gathering place, has remained important, although the library, snackbar, the study areas, commons, the tables and the halls and walkways also have their regulars. "Nothing" becomes something to do when your friends are around, especially those "special" friends... and Browne is a very friendly place!

Spirit's the name, Winning's the game

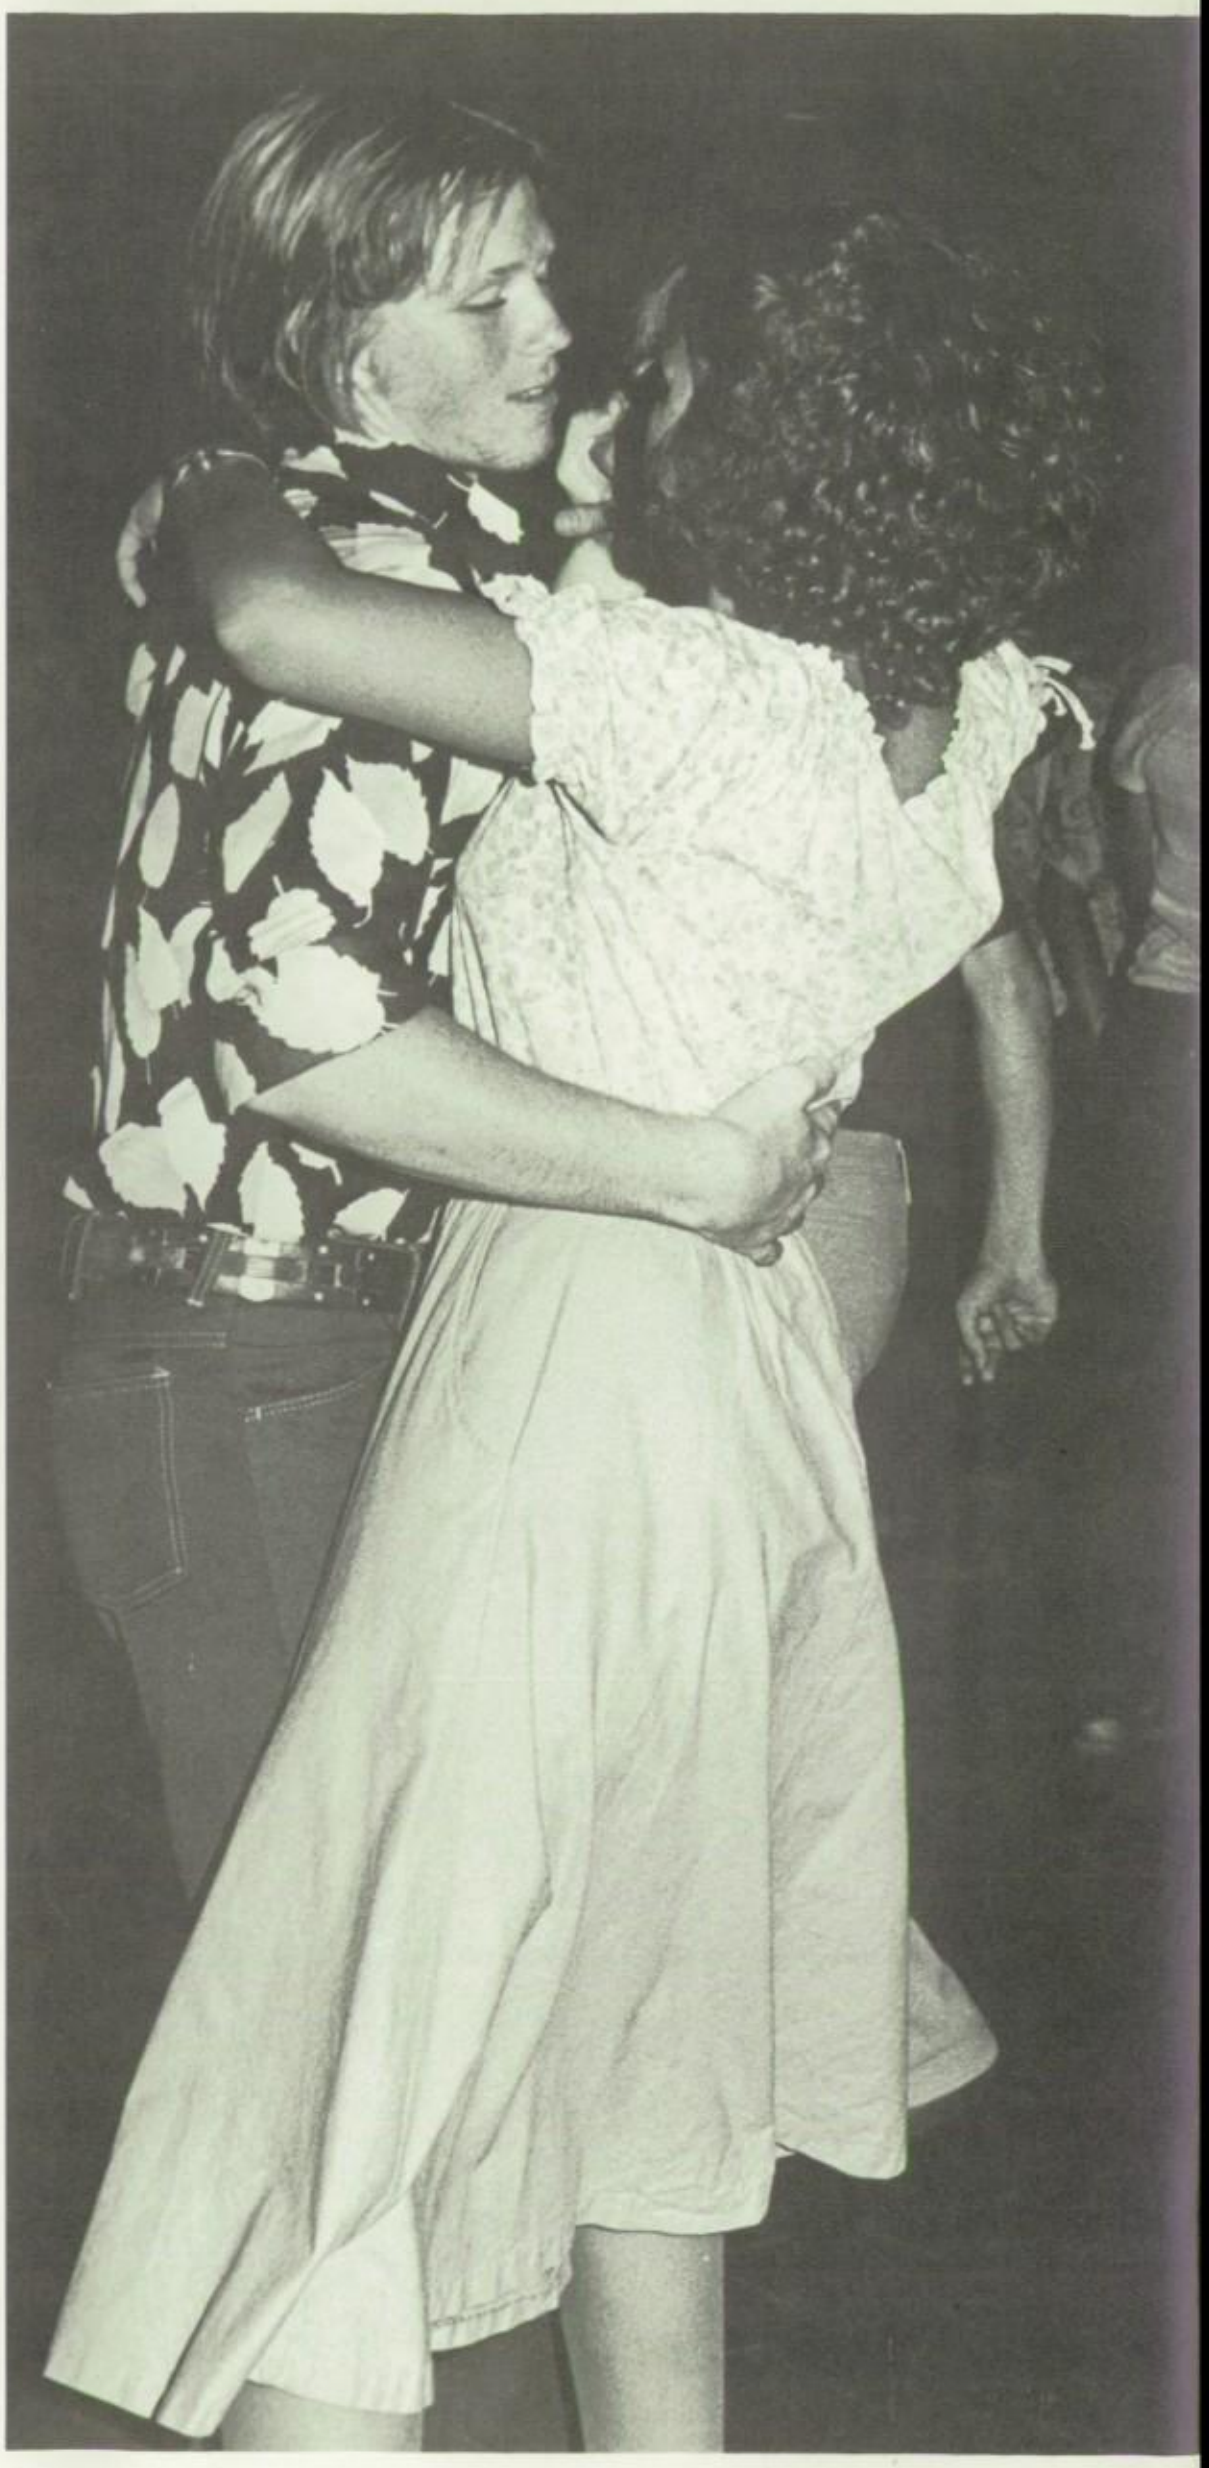

Spirit's the name and victory's the game at Browne's pep assemblies. Never before has spirit and participation been at such a high. Skits were performed by Student Government, the Poms danced, the Cheerleaders cheered on, and the crowds were filled with spirit.

But who wouldn't be? With the winning record of Browne's number one football team, followed by the many great victories of the Bruins basketball, baseball, and track teams; who couldn't be PROUD!

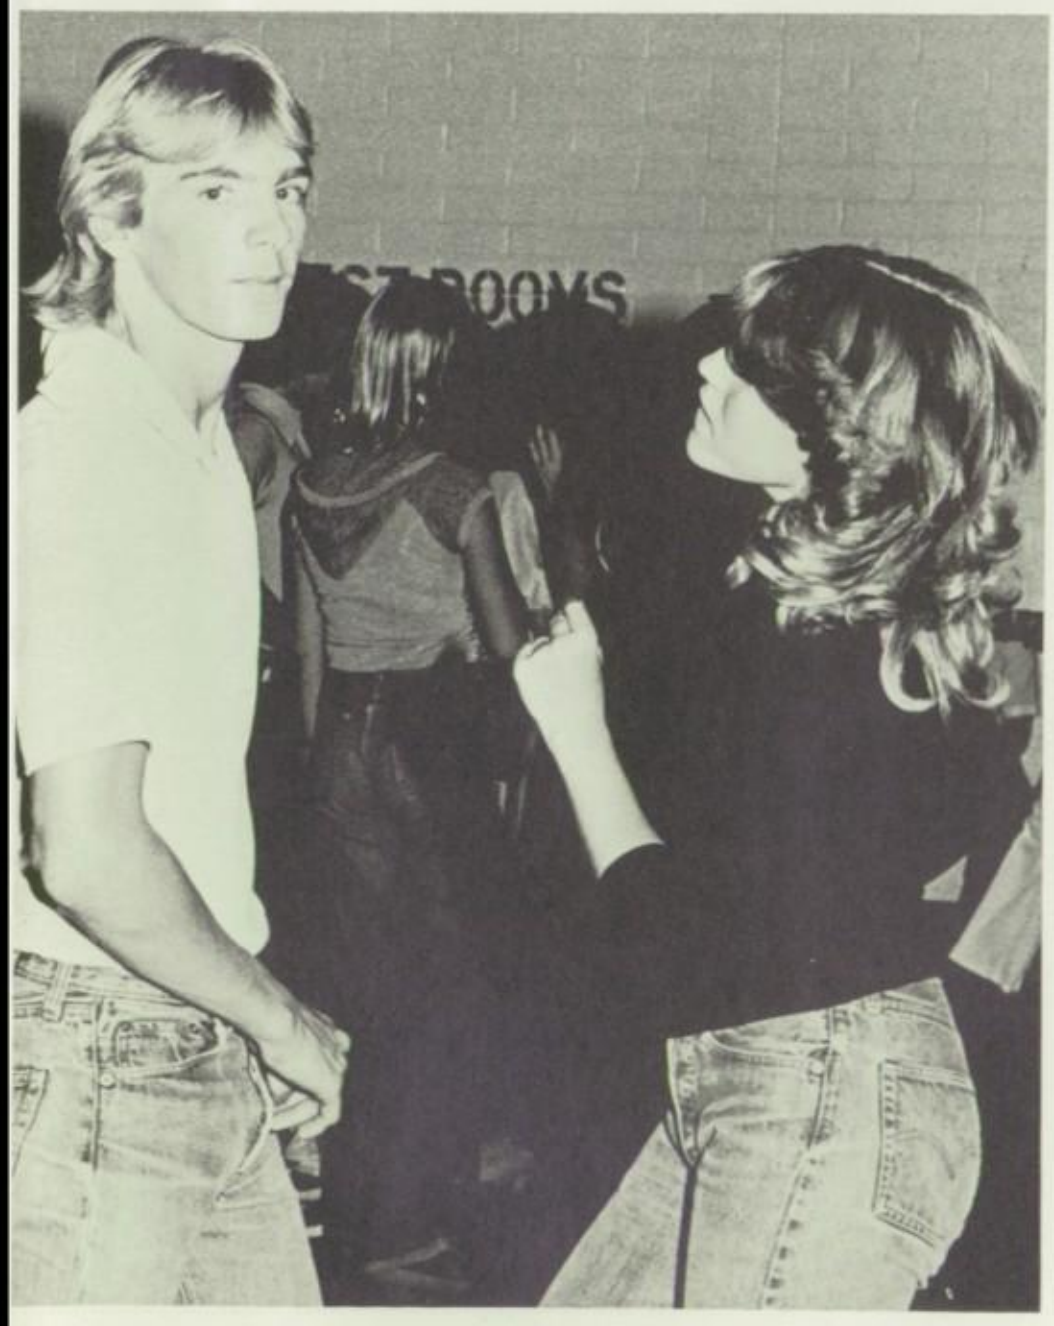

The disco change

Students moving in so many creative ways to some of todays best music around is the best way to describe the action that goes on at Browne High dances. The year of "Night Fever" is what has made our dances the best ever.

With the birth of "Saturday Night Fever" dances have turned into a phenomenal amount of talented dancers making their mark on the disco floor. Disco dances are one of the reasons that made the dances after the games something worthwhile to show up for.

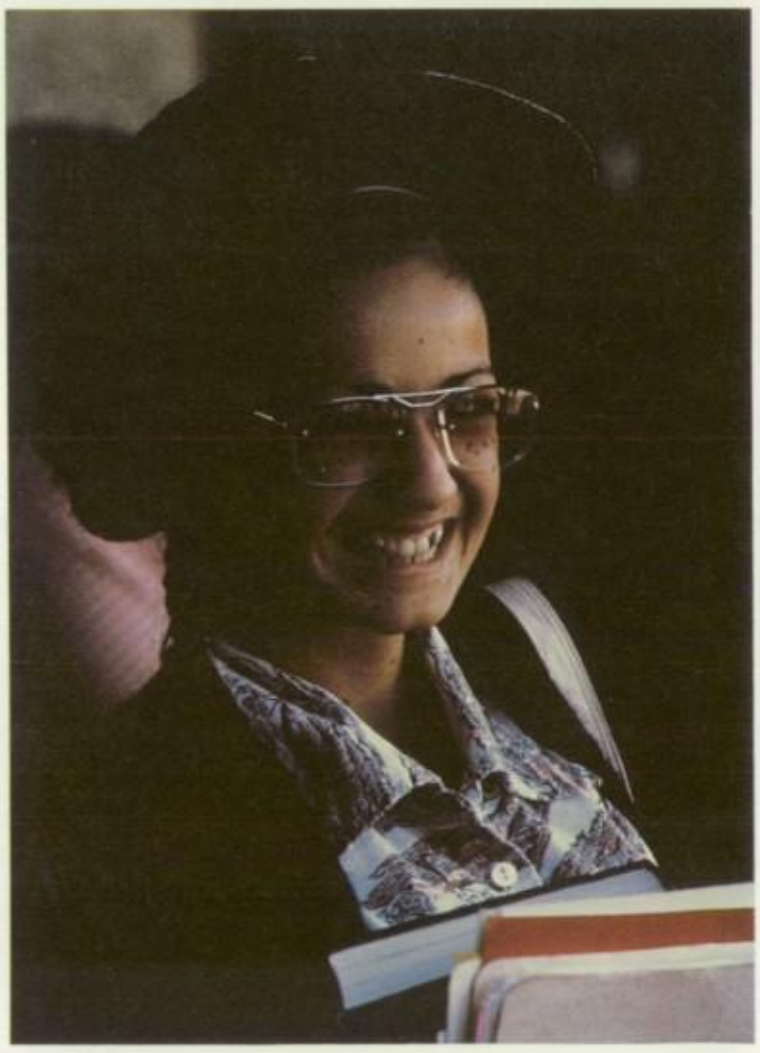

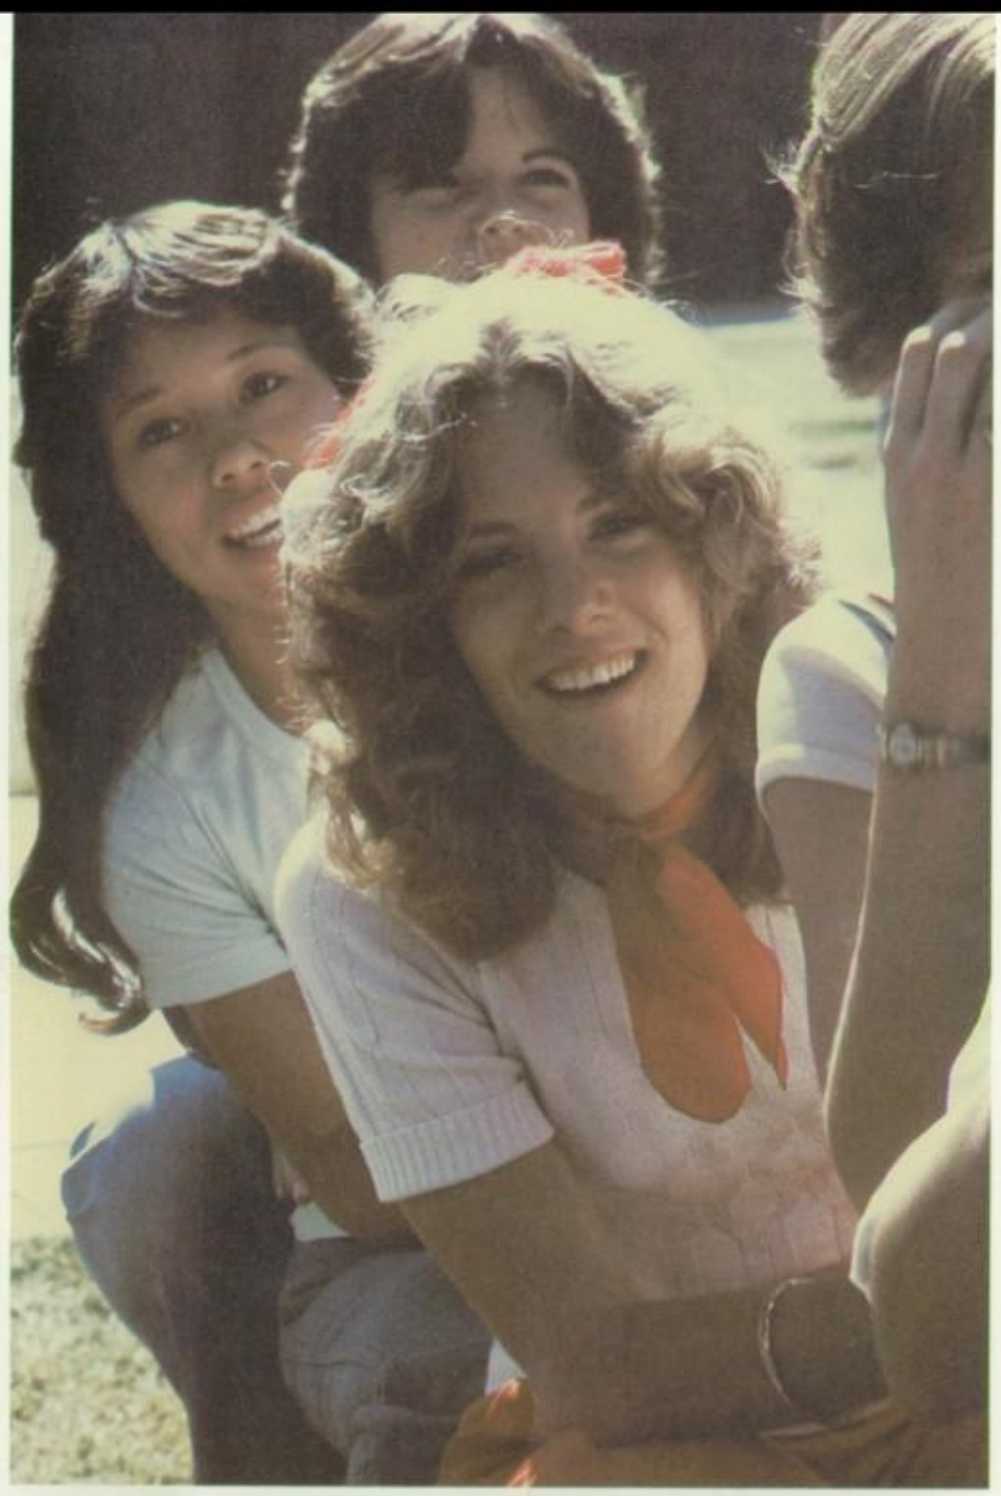

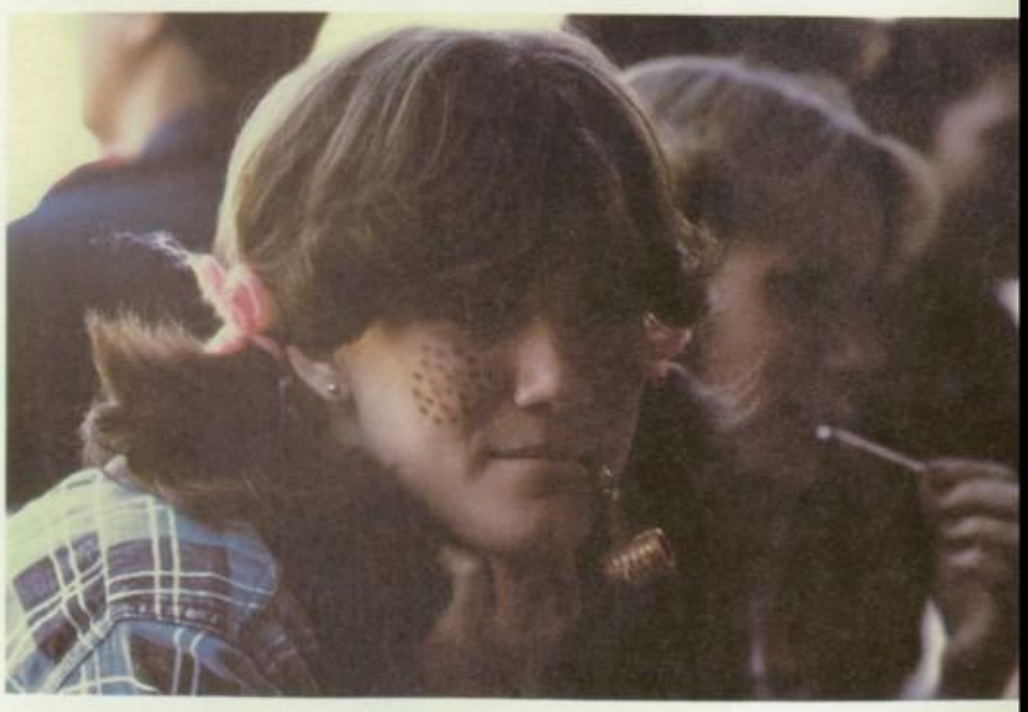

Smokin' Crawdads

A week of hats and glasses, hillbillies bouncin' round, Disney characters scattered about, teens from the past, and brown and orange splashed around here and there. Recognize the scene? It was Trevor Browne's spirit week! There were more participants than ever before. Freshman and Seniors alike showed their spirit and dressed up on the appropriate days and participated in the spirit games held during lunch to show their support for the Bruins' teams.

Let it rain on our Parade . . .

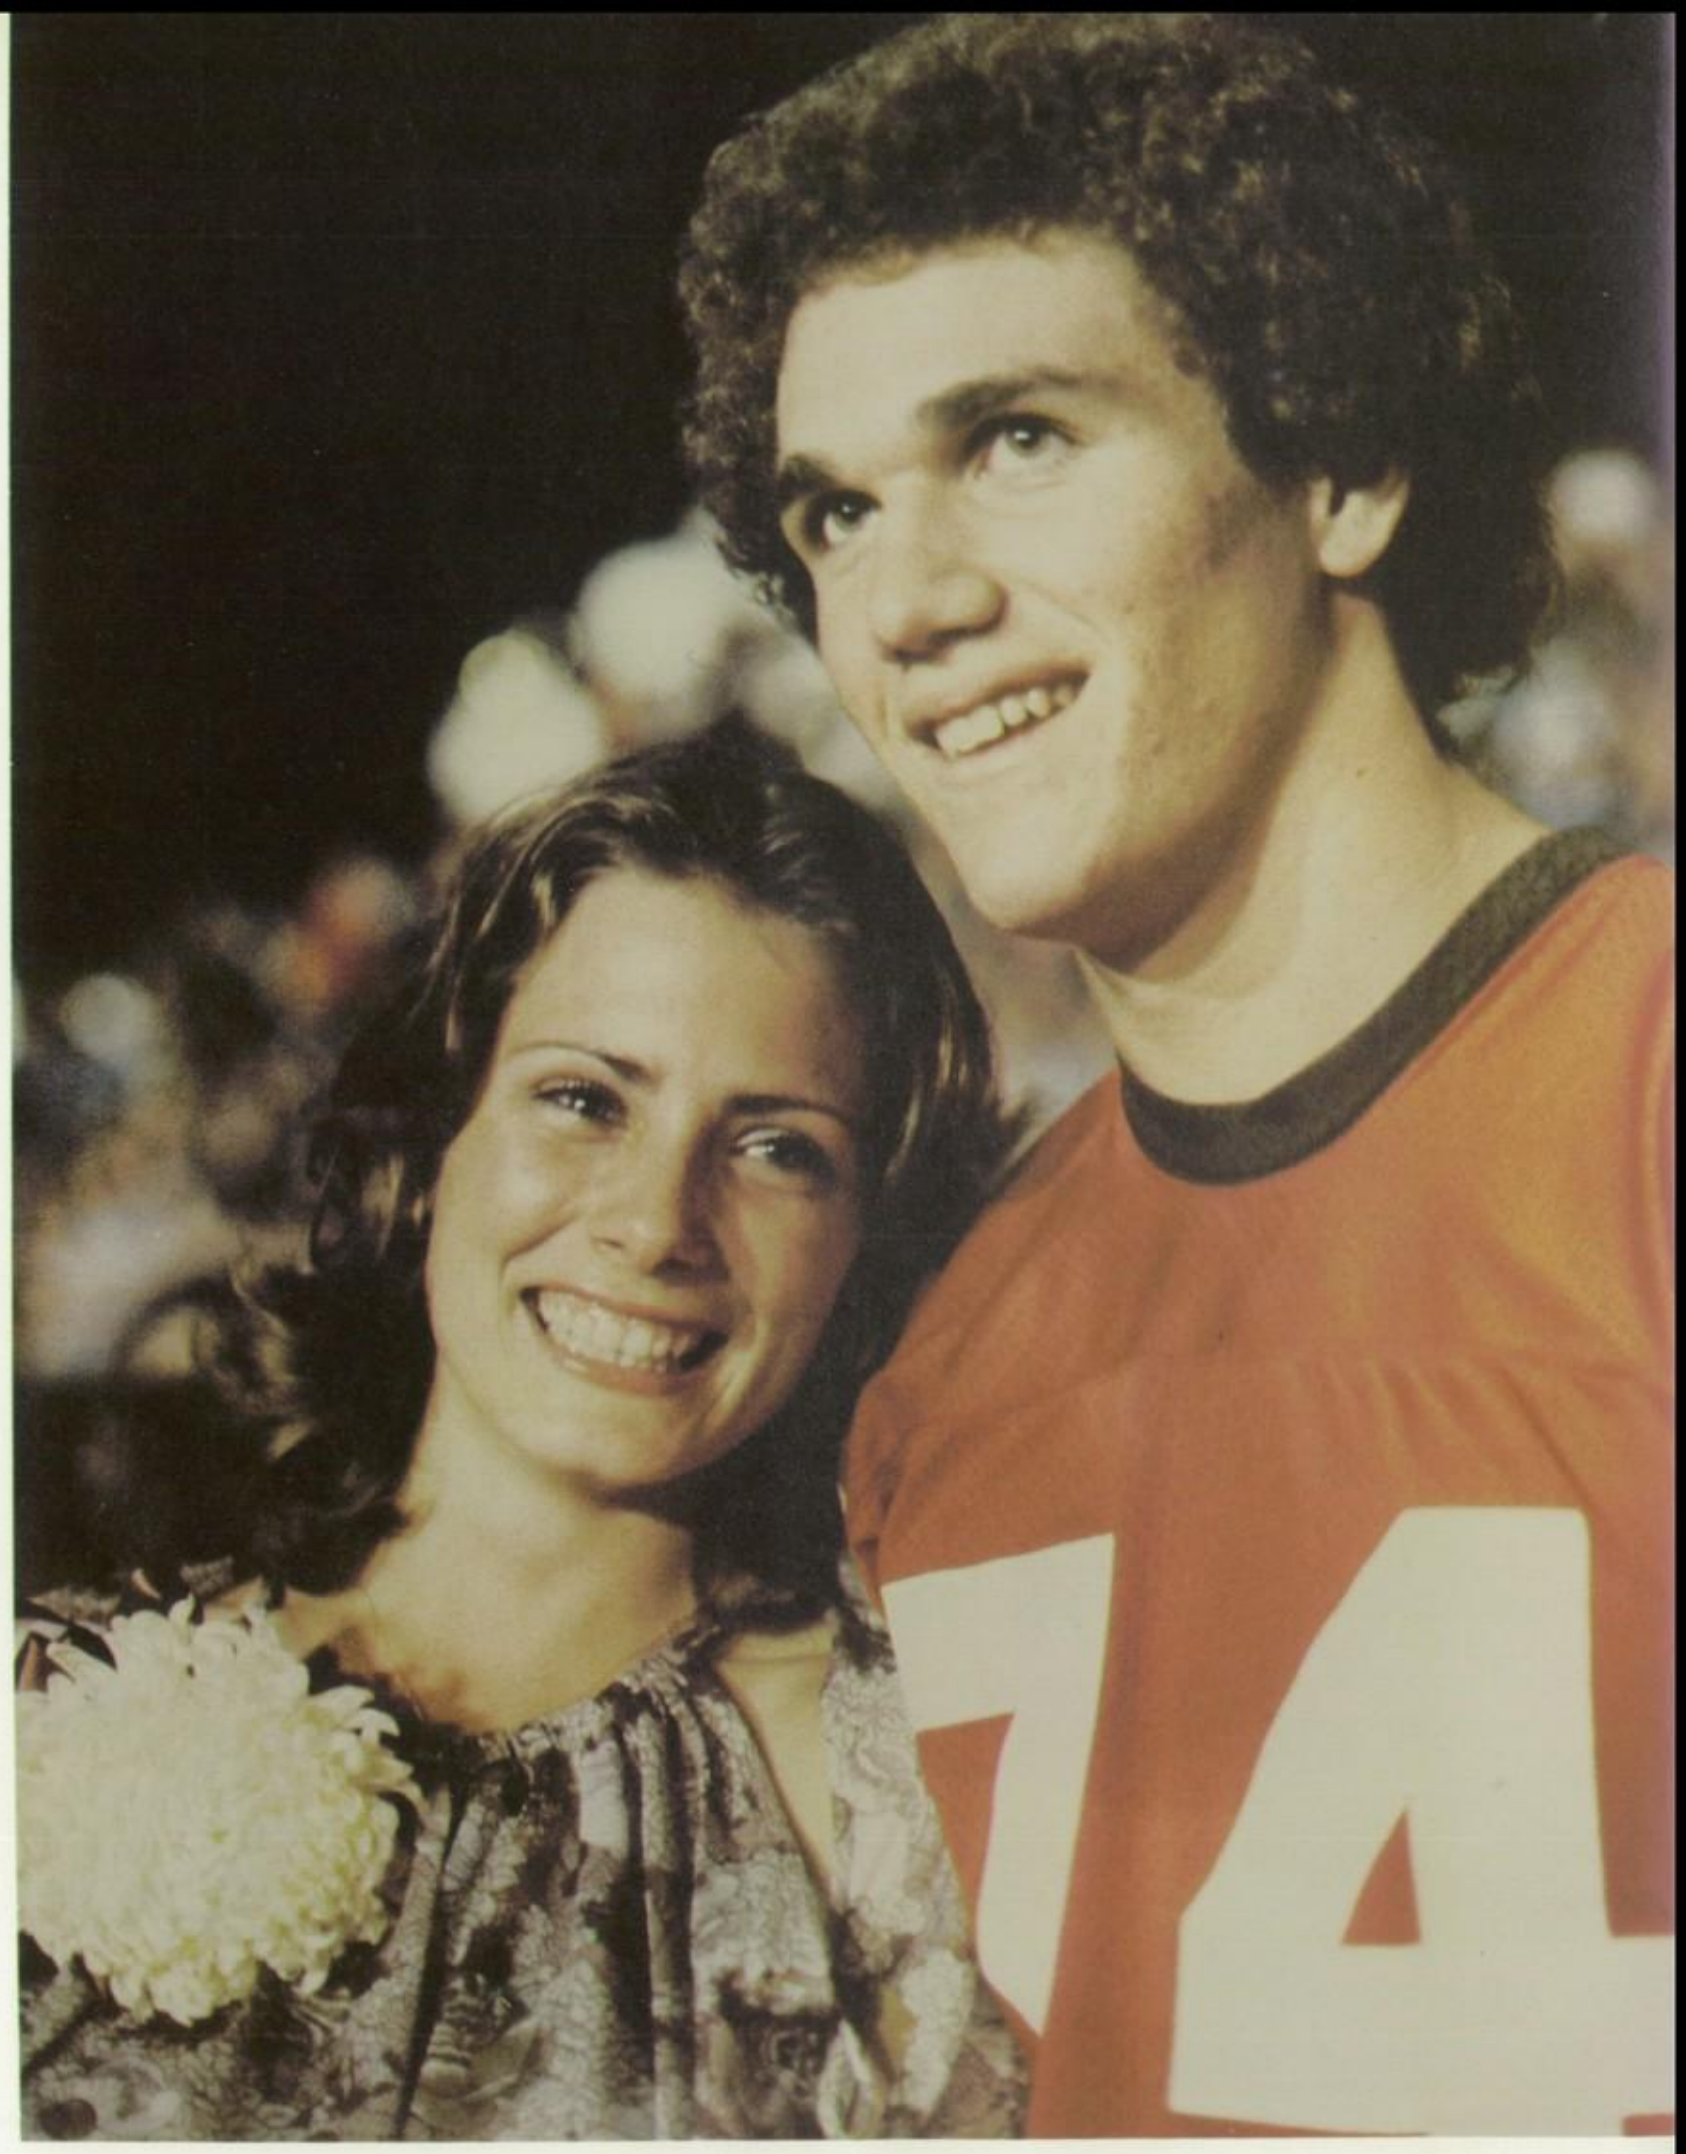

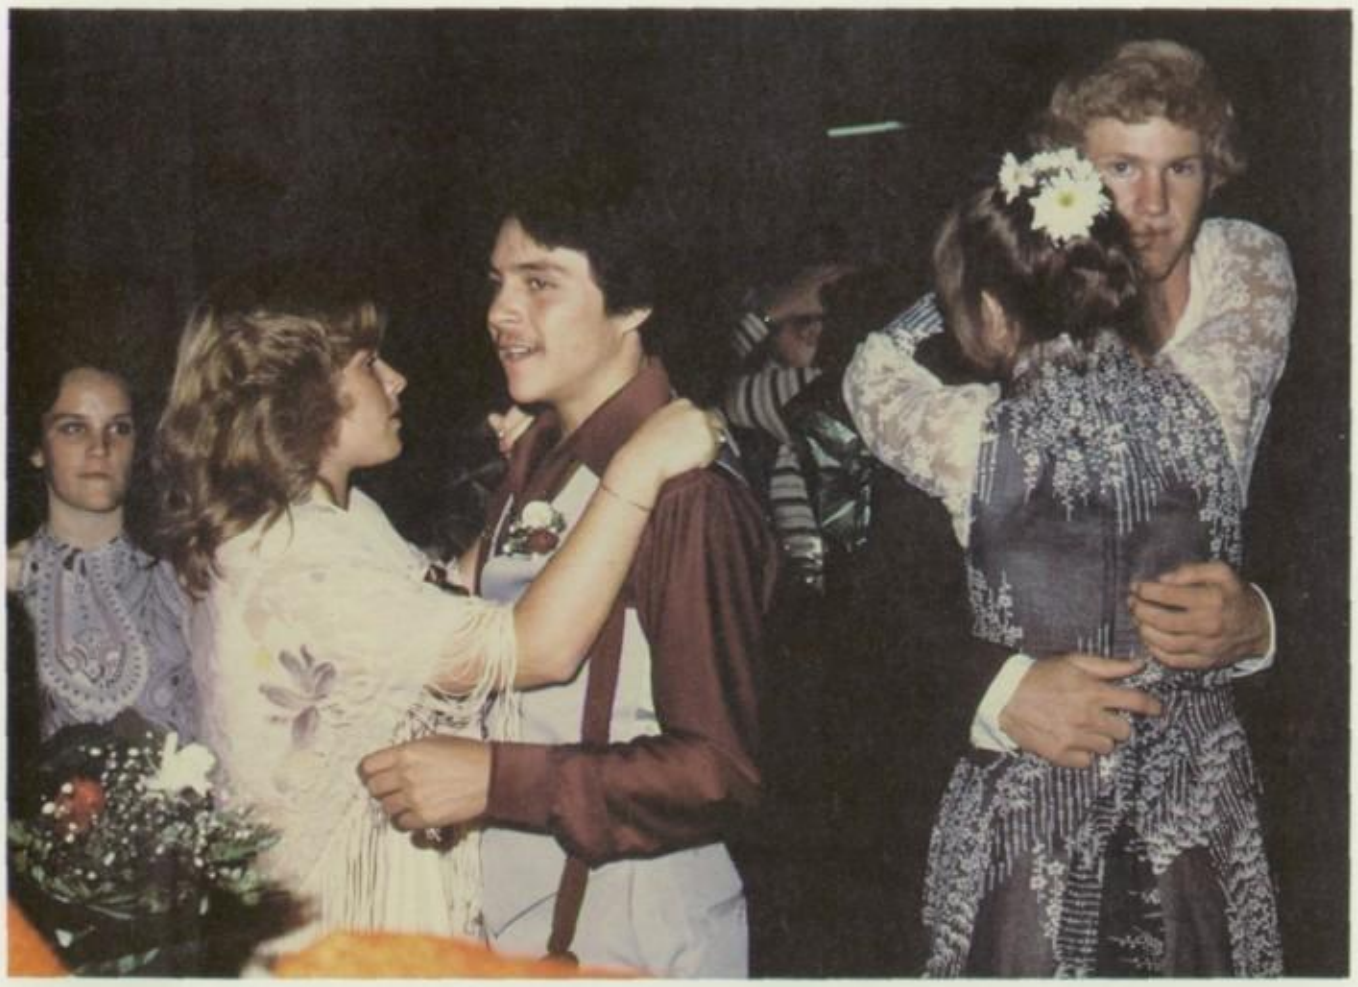

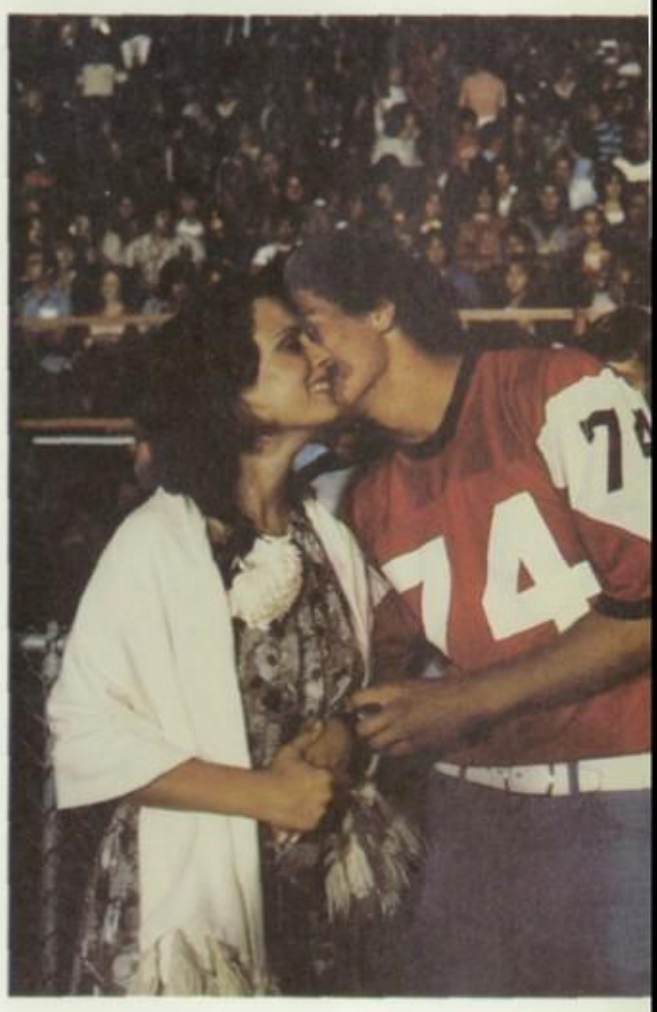

The night was drawing near, and the plans were set. There was to be an outdoor bar-b-que, floats, fireworks, and, of course, the crowning of King and Queen. But, like most of Browne's Homecoming dreams, this one was washed out. Once again it rained. Spirits went undampened though. The bar-b-que was moved indoors. Before the game, the Poms, Cheers, Football Players were introduced with their parents.

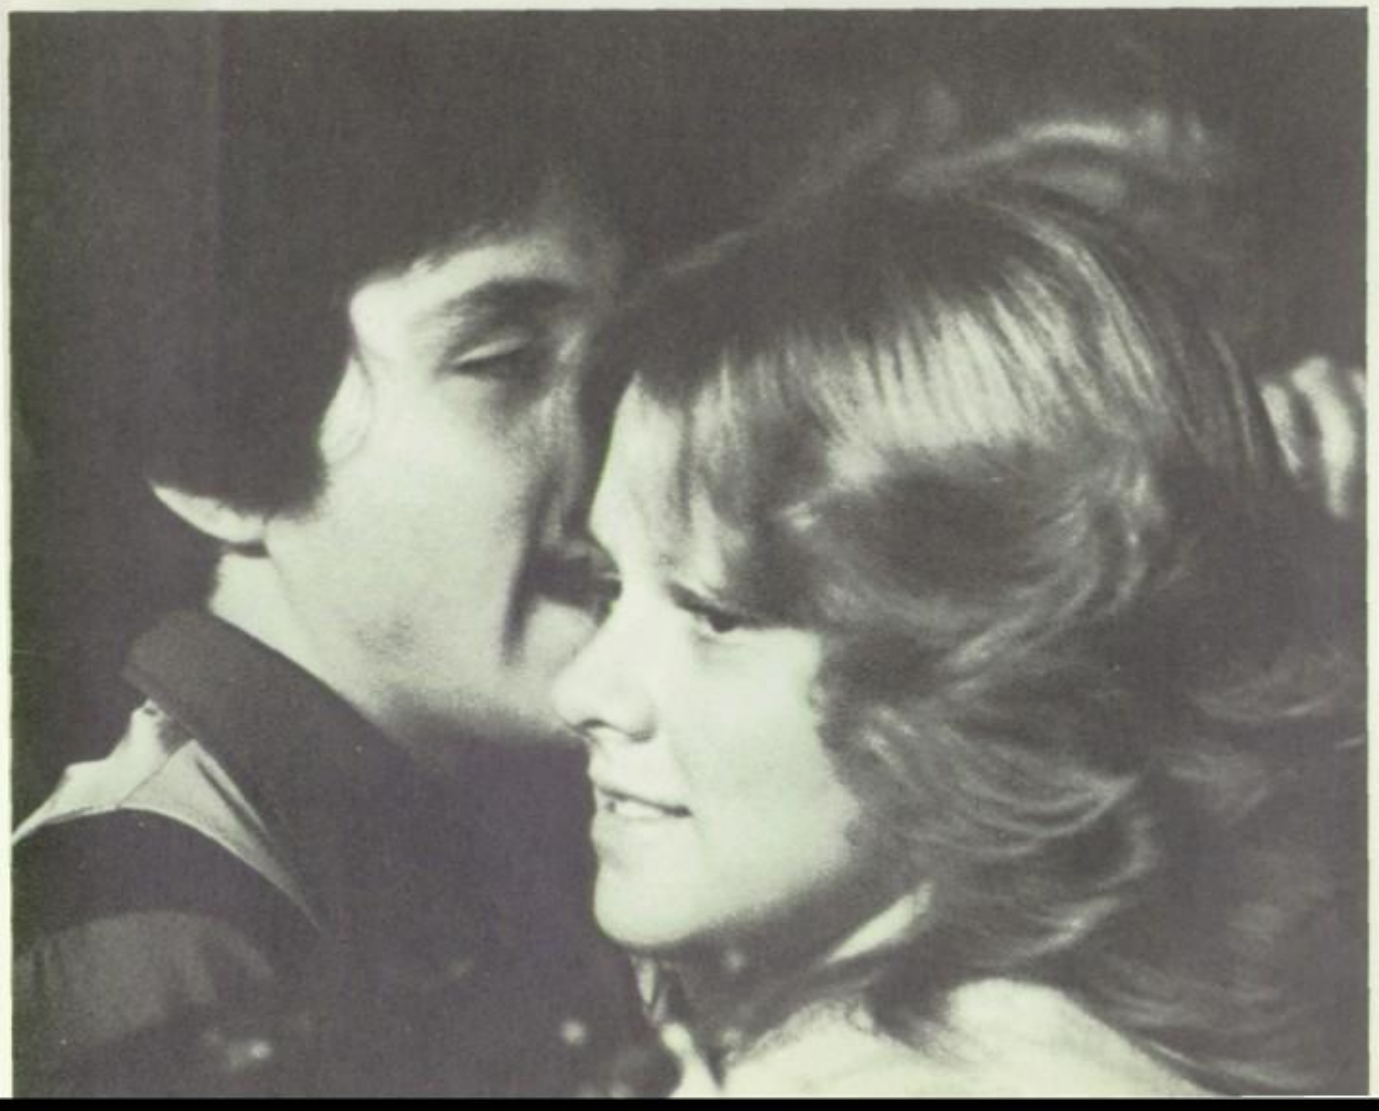

During Half-time, Royalty was announced, and later crowned at the dance in the cafeteria. Greg Hammond and Shelly Smith were crowned King and Queen. The court was (in order) Alex Vakula and Donna Farnsworth, Vince Perez and Denise LeBoeuf, Charlie Mata and Lori Anderson, and John Bear and Virginia Whitmore.

Seniors Arrive With Class!

The Trevor G. Browne Christmas Formal held many surprises. Along with the rockin' sounds of Pyramid; Seniors Alex Vakula and John Bear escorted Annette Guerra and Donna Bicknell in high fashion and class in a stunning black limosine complete with chauffer. Top hats and tails fluttered in the cool evening breeze as each headed for the door with cane in hand. The rest of the evening was a flash of color, style, class and beautiful people. Select voting for Christmas Royalty produced Diane Cervaneck, Dick Clark, Bridgette Rapatz, Pat Corbin, Patty Shawver, and Brian Godbehere.

Bruins do it this time

ROW ONE: Ralph Parisi, Steve Hickman, Mark Tuttle, Reed Knowlton, Chevy Blomberg, Darren Heath, Victor Jackson, Tim Brooks; ROW TWO: Donny Meek, Jim Shelley Marty Marshall, Brad Robson, Mike Renfro, Charlie Mata, Charlie Medrano, Chuck Wetzel, Teddy Reveles. ROW THREE: Coach Taylor, Coach Mitton, Mark Gurule, Darryl Grimes, Brian Valora, Rory Barnett, Tim Bolin, Kelly Markland, Mark Anderson, Danny Johns, Coach Harkins; ROW FOUR: John Padilla, Roger Dybas, Walter Kempner, Greg Hammond, Erich Martin, Bill Bailey, John Bear, Randy Shaulis, Jim Durham, Rick Jenkins.

For the first time in the school's history, the Varsity Football Team made the playoffs. They attained this by posting a remarkable 8-2 record. Opening the season with two big shutouts over Glendale and East, the Bruins showed everyone that they were for real. Rushing for almost 600 yards in the first two games, juniors Rory Barnett and Wally Kepner head the best running game in the state.

With upset on their minds, Chandler entered Browne territory only to be blasted out of town with a score of 41-14. After three games the Bruins had outscored their opponents 90-14.

A 3-0 record made the showdown with arch-rival Maryvale one of the biggest events of the year. Although fireworks flew on both sides of the field, the Panthers got the upper hand and put a wrench in the Bruin Machine.

After the Bruins first setback they hit easy street with cruising victories over North, Carl Hayden, West and Phoenix Union in succession. Smashing victories over these opponents raised our teams record to 7-1 overall and 3-0 in league.

With a victory over Alhambra, a playoff berth was theirs, and just in time quarterback Tim Boling came alive when he connected for four out of five passes for over 100 yards to coast past the Lions.

If the Bruins had beaten Camelback they would have won the league championship. The two teams battled back and forth all night, but in the end Browne just ran out of time.

Time runs out

When it comes to bringing the people to their feet, the playoff Bruins are among the best. In both postseason games, Browne brought a chill to the fans by making the outcomes of the games a mystery to everyone right down to the final seconds.

In the first game against Central, Browne squeeked out a 24-21 victory with the help of Ray Alvarez's 31 yard field goal with only 31 seconds left.

Choosing to receive, the Bruins took the opening kick-off, and marched an easy 76 yards for the first score of the game.

Then the Bobcats took over and shredded our defense for three straight touchdowns to build a 21-7 lead at the half.

In the second half, the Bruins put everything together to pull out the first playoff victory Browne had ever participated.

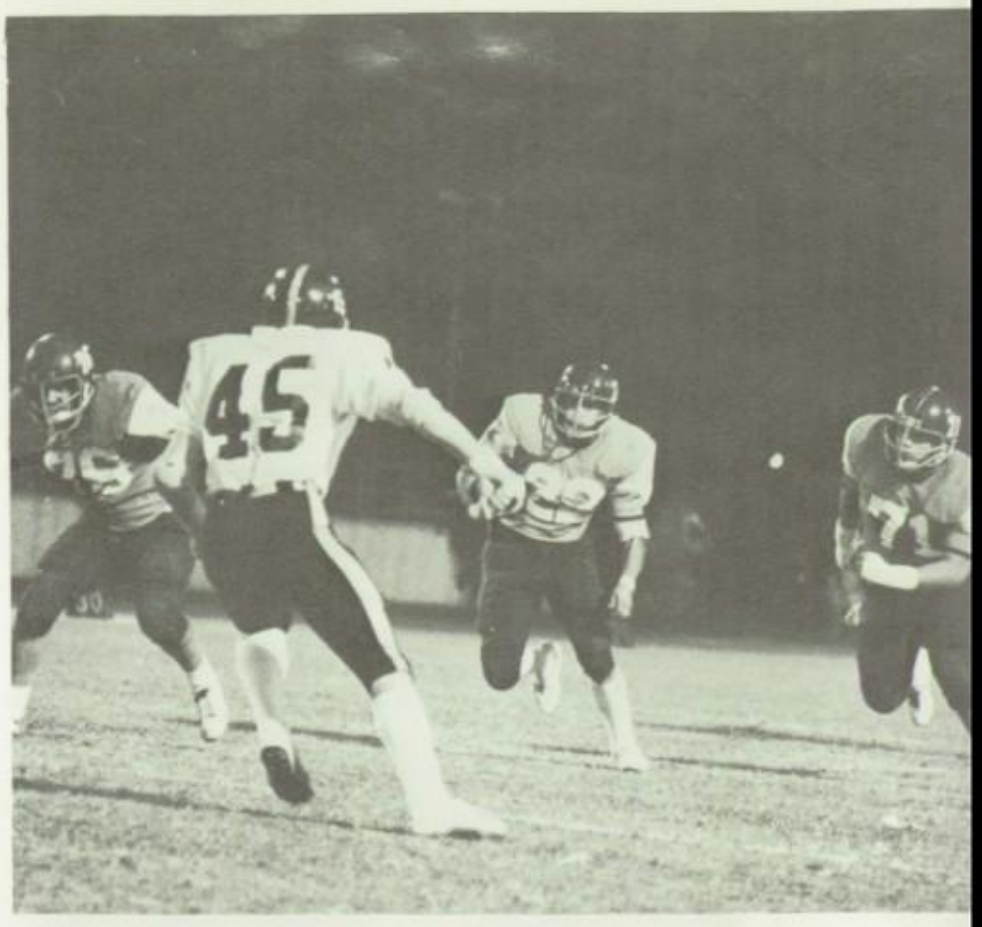

With a balanced running and passing game the Bruins bounced back for two straight touchdowns to tie the score at 21-21.

With the defense keeping Central's offense in check for the entire second half, Browne took over the Bobcats to end the game at 24-21.

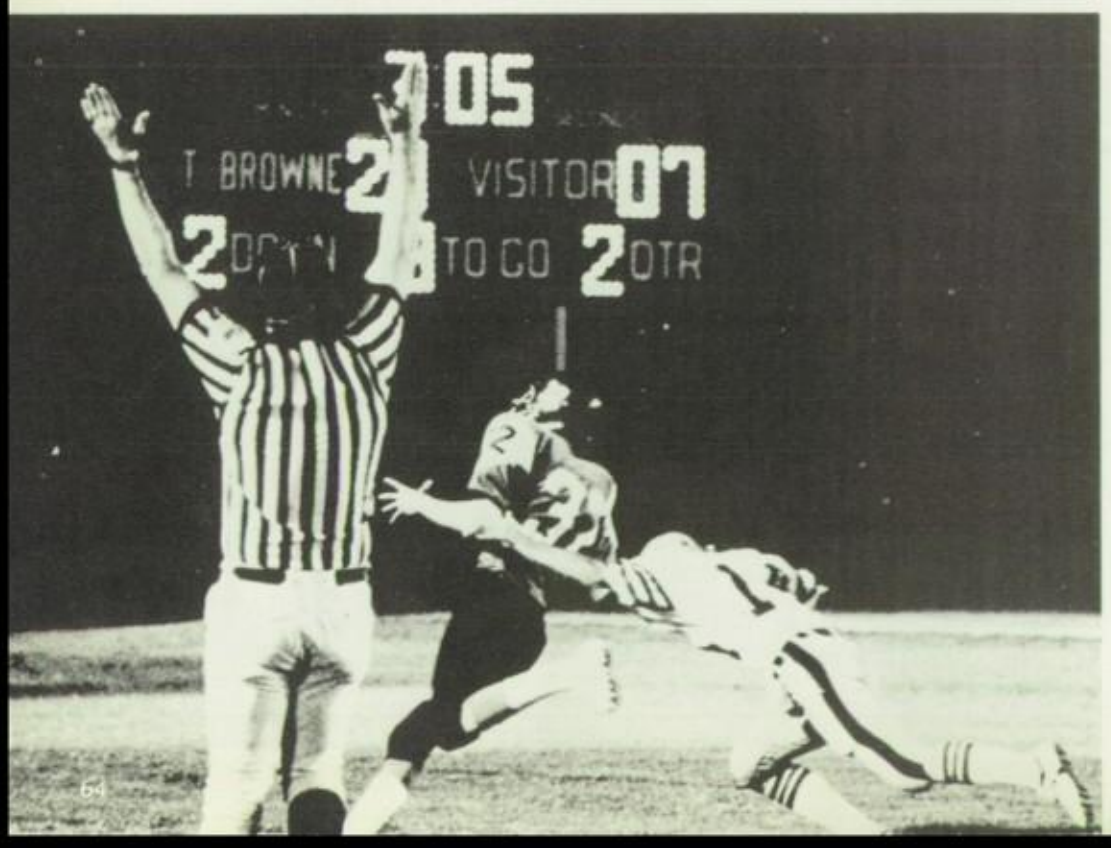

In the second playoff game the Bruins batted heads with Saguaro all night long before a mis-direction knocked Browne out of the playoffs.

Despite Rory Barnett racking up 213 yards for the night (over 1300 for the season), the Bruins couldn't contain the Sabercats offense as they kept on fighting back to overtake the Bruins in the closing minutes.

Down by three points the Bruins took the ball with less than three minutes left in the game. Carried by the pinpoint passing of Tim Boling to Jim Durham, and a big third down run by Barnett the Bruins were suddenly on Saguaro's 9 yard line with 16 seconds left. Going for the touchdown and the victory, the Bruins tried to run the ball but were stopped, and time just ran out on the Bruins marvelous season.

JV rolls on

J.V. Football had a very successful season with a 6-2-2 record including a 28-6 thrashing of Marysvale. Although they lacked in size, the offensive line of the team pulled their weight. A very talented backfield makes the future of these players look bright on the varsity level.

Football-frosh style

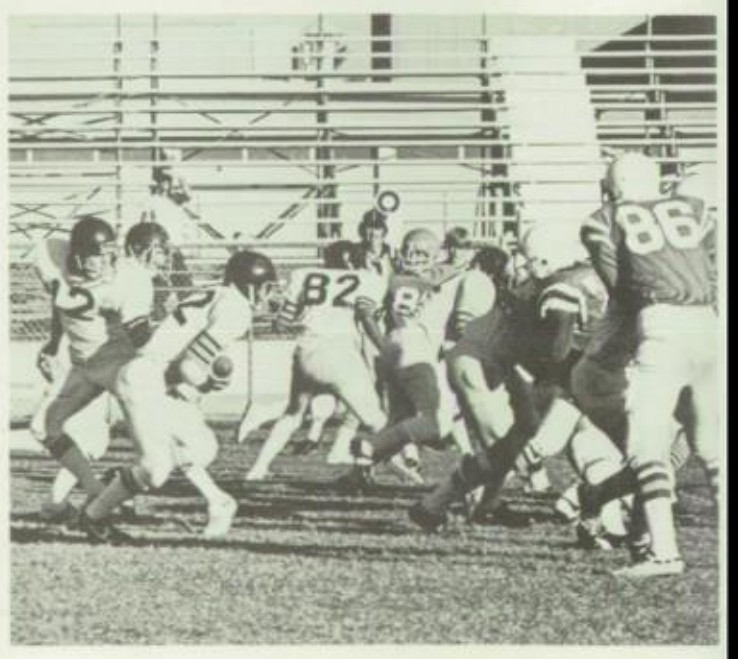

Freshman football carried on it's tradition of turning out fine football teams. Heavyweight and light weights combined for a 10-7-1 record as their sights of great success in the future look bright.

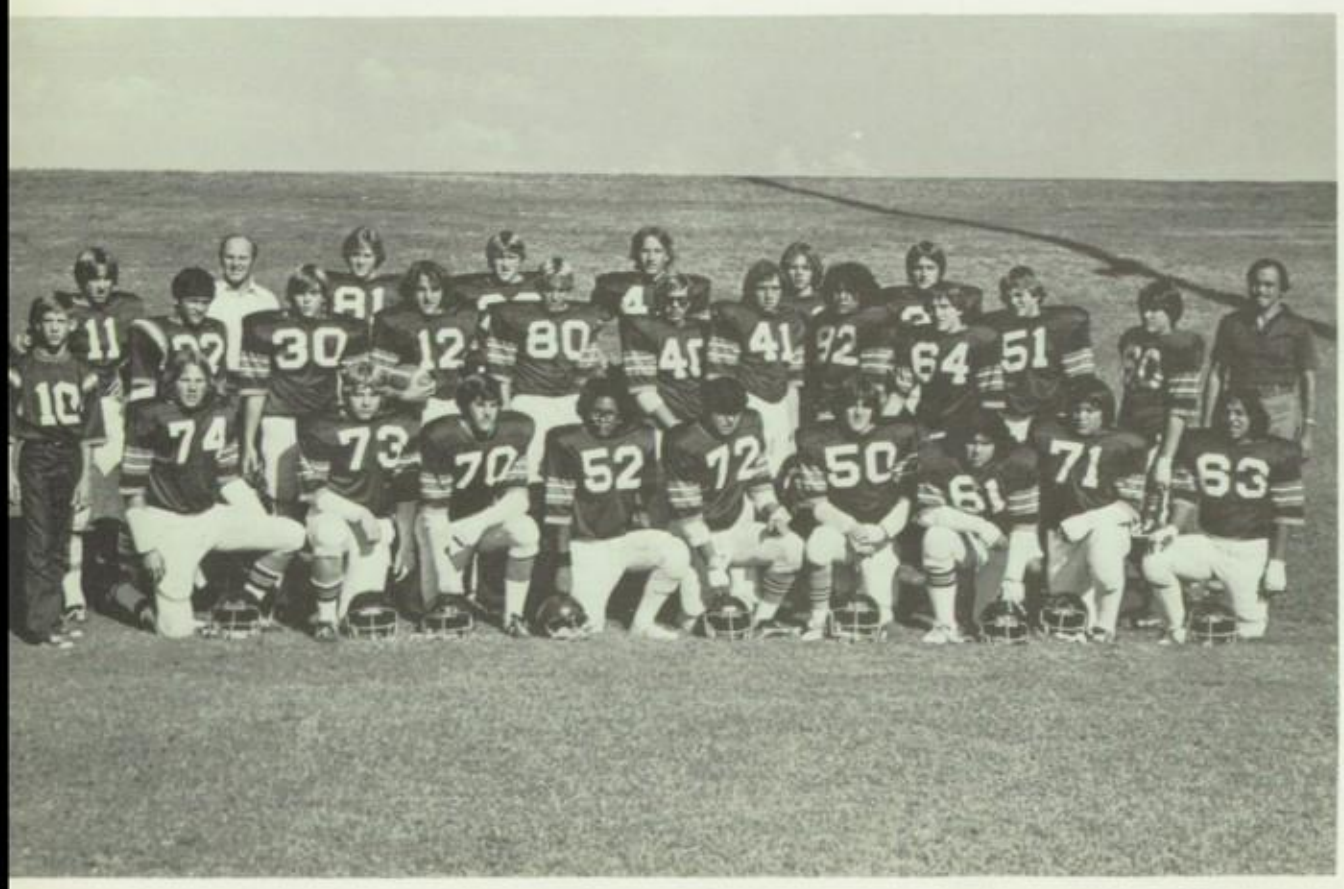

With stiff defenses and potent offenses these two teams showed the city that Browne will be very effective, when these players attain varsity status.

Varsity works hard for wins

All season long the Varsity Volleyball Team achieved some hard earned victories as they fought their way to a fine season record.

Starting slow, and hurting on account of injuries the Bruins made a valiant effort to chalk up wins.

Pulling the load was first team all Divisional player Jacque Maynor who has been smashing and spiking her way to high honors for the past four years. Named M.V.P. from the volleyball team two years in a row. She has proved that she is one of the best players around.

Despite the loss of Jacque, next year's team is sure to be something to watch as there will be seven returning varsity players.

Freshmen volleyball big success

Freshman Volleyball opened up it's first season at Browne with a bang! These talented young girls posted a fabulous 8-2 record against their opponents.

Their first year proved very successful for the Bruins as they did a super job making their first start here at Browne a good one.

Led by Becky Joy and Sandy Spiva the JV Volleyball team had one of its better seasons in '78, posting a 5-5 mark.

If these girls are as good next year as they proved to be this year, Varsity Volleyball should be very devastating.

Boy's Varsity Cross Country had one of its best seasons ever. Both J.V. and Varsity posted 11-2 records as the Varsity eam placed 3rd in the Phoenix Division.

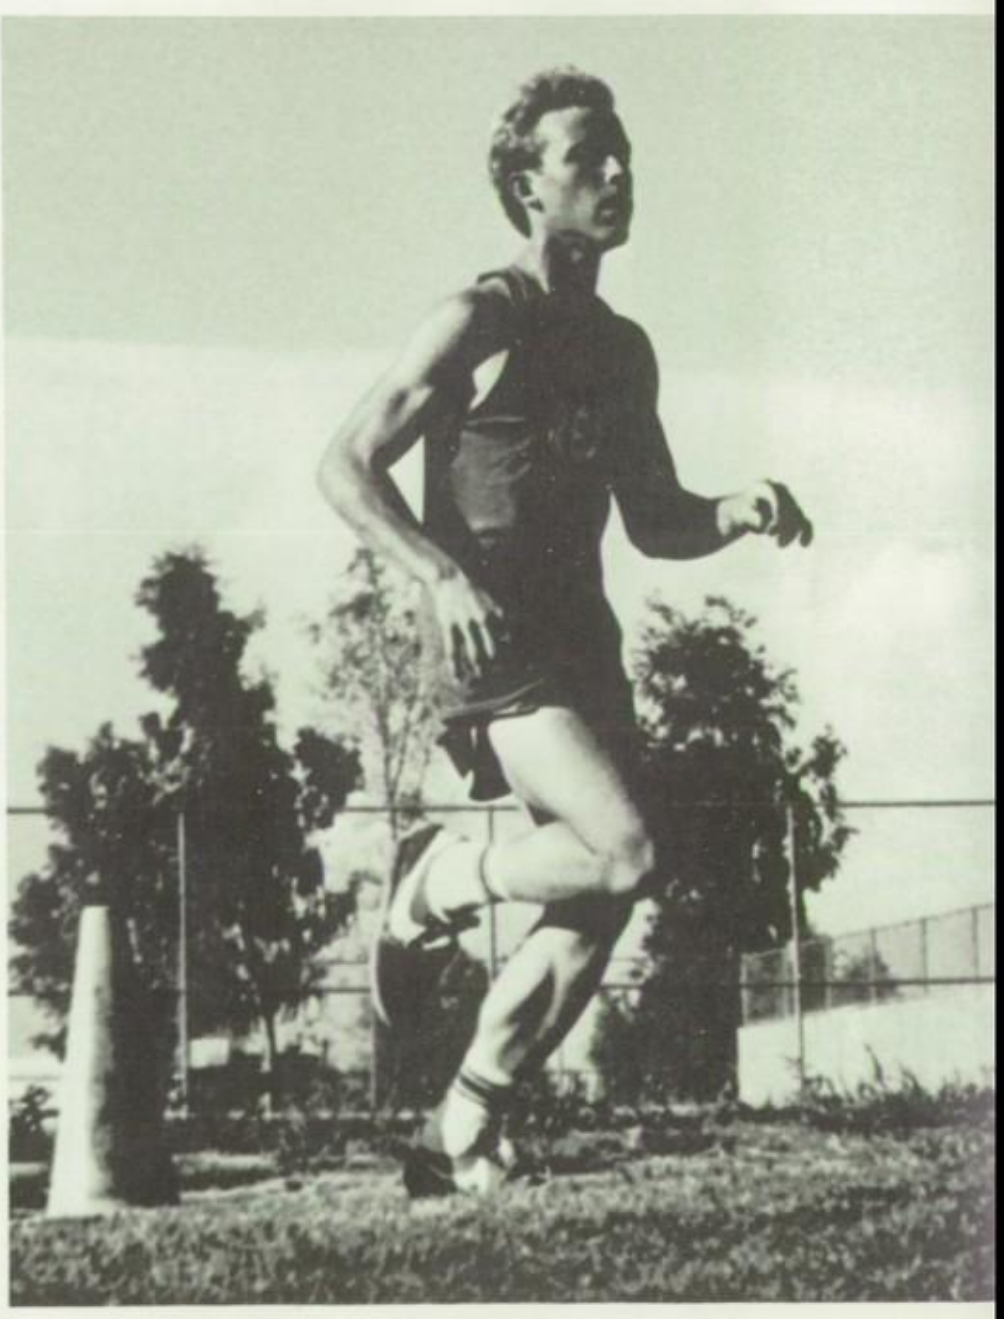

Outstanding runners for the Bruins were Rick Rozelle, Kevin Harkins, and Billy Clah.

Fortunately, all the runners who placed high in the division will be returning next year.

On the Junior Varsity Squad, Steve Nevers was the J.V. City Champ as he ran away from the other schools.

With such super prospects running for the Bruins, Coach Brown says next year looks brighter than ever.

Birdie flies high

The '78 Bruin Badminton teams were a group of girls who dedicated themselves to forming one of the finest teams in the league.

The girls ended their season with a fine record as they placed high in their league. With only two seniors leaving, the girls should improve very much next year.

In addition to the fine team record, there was also outstanding individual efforts, particularly Corrie Ledbetter who was entered in the state tournament, being only a junior, Corrie should be well heard of next year.

*Denotes victories

There was some great shooting done by the 78-79 Bruin Basketball Team when they achieved a lot of great feats they had been striving for in the past.

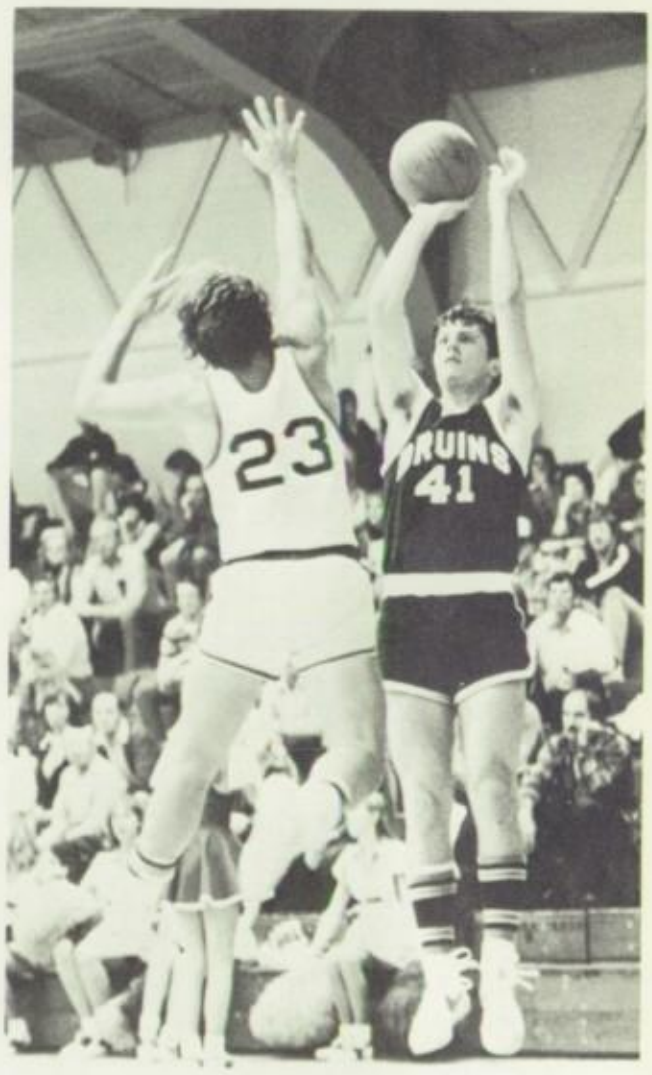

The biggest feat was the defeat of powerful East in the celebrated Christmas Tournament. Coach Gerry Hahn was very pleased with their outstanding effort.

Other outstanding feats included a big 83-50 smashing defeat of Alhambra, a triple overtime victory over Greenway, and the two times the Bruins beat arch rival Maryvale.

Excellent shooting and consistent hustling carried the Browne cagers to one of their finest seasons ever.

Great shooters carry teams

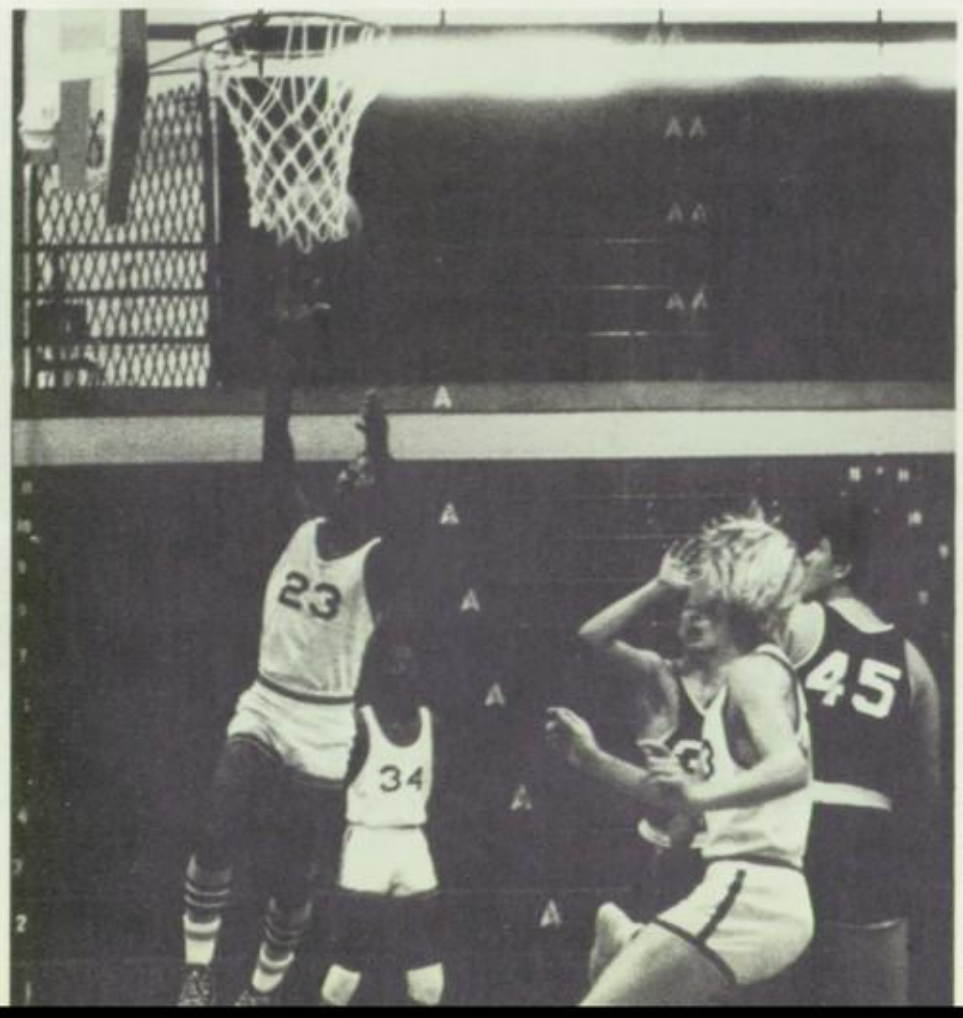

The JV Basketball team was backed by a host of fine shooters as they ended up only one game below .500.

The Orange Team of Freshman Basketball had an impressive season as they chalked up 12 wins against only 5 losses. In league play they ended up in first place with an outstanding 9-1 record.

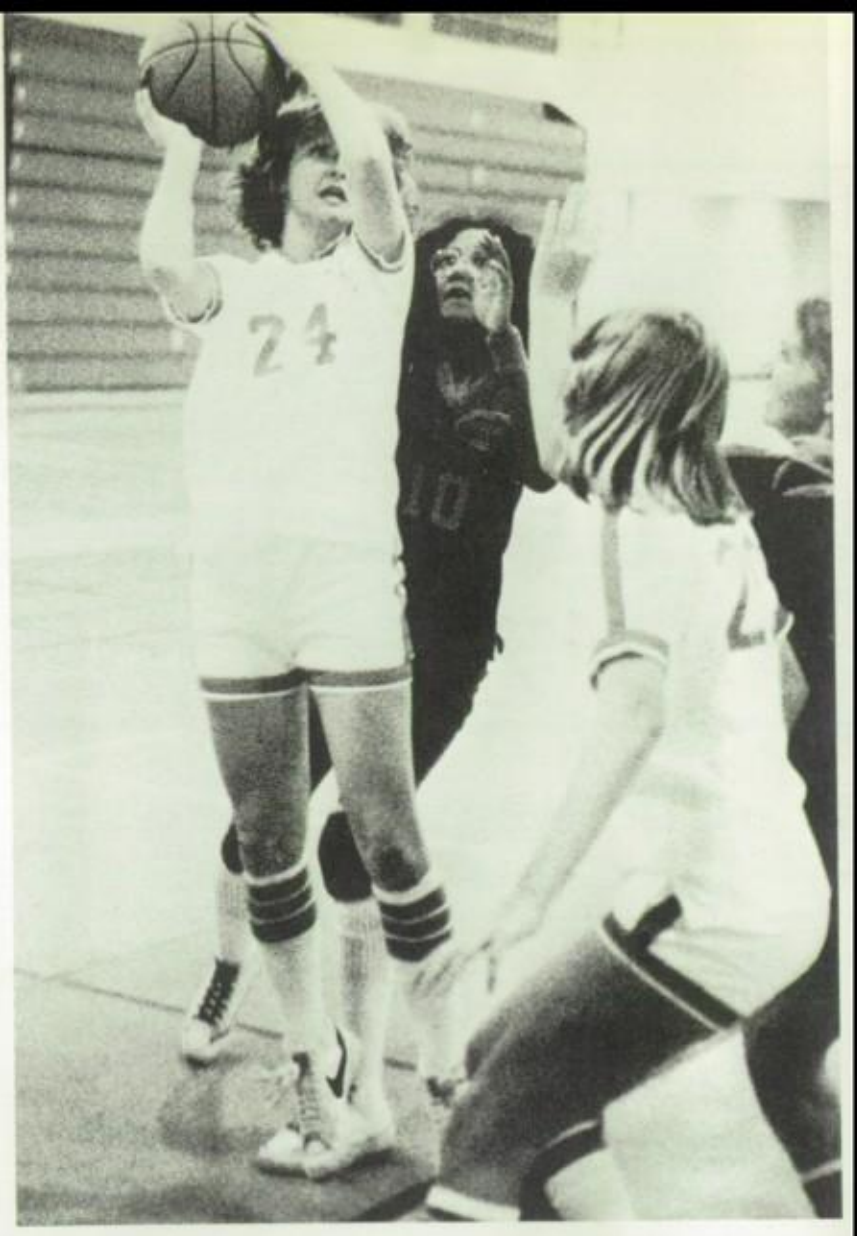

Excellent shooting, (a .464 field goal percentage) was the teams main asset.

Bell Floyd, who is Six foot four inches tall, led the team in points and rebounds. Also starting for the team were Robert Schaffer, Tim Wedel, and Dennis Carter.

The Browne Team had it rougher. They were only able to achieve three wins throughout the season. Next year, on the JV level, however, the combination of the two teams should make quite a difference.

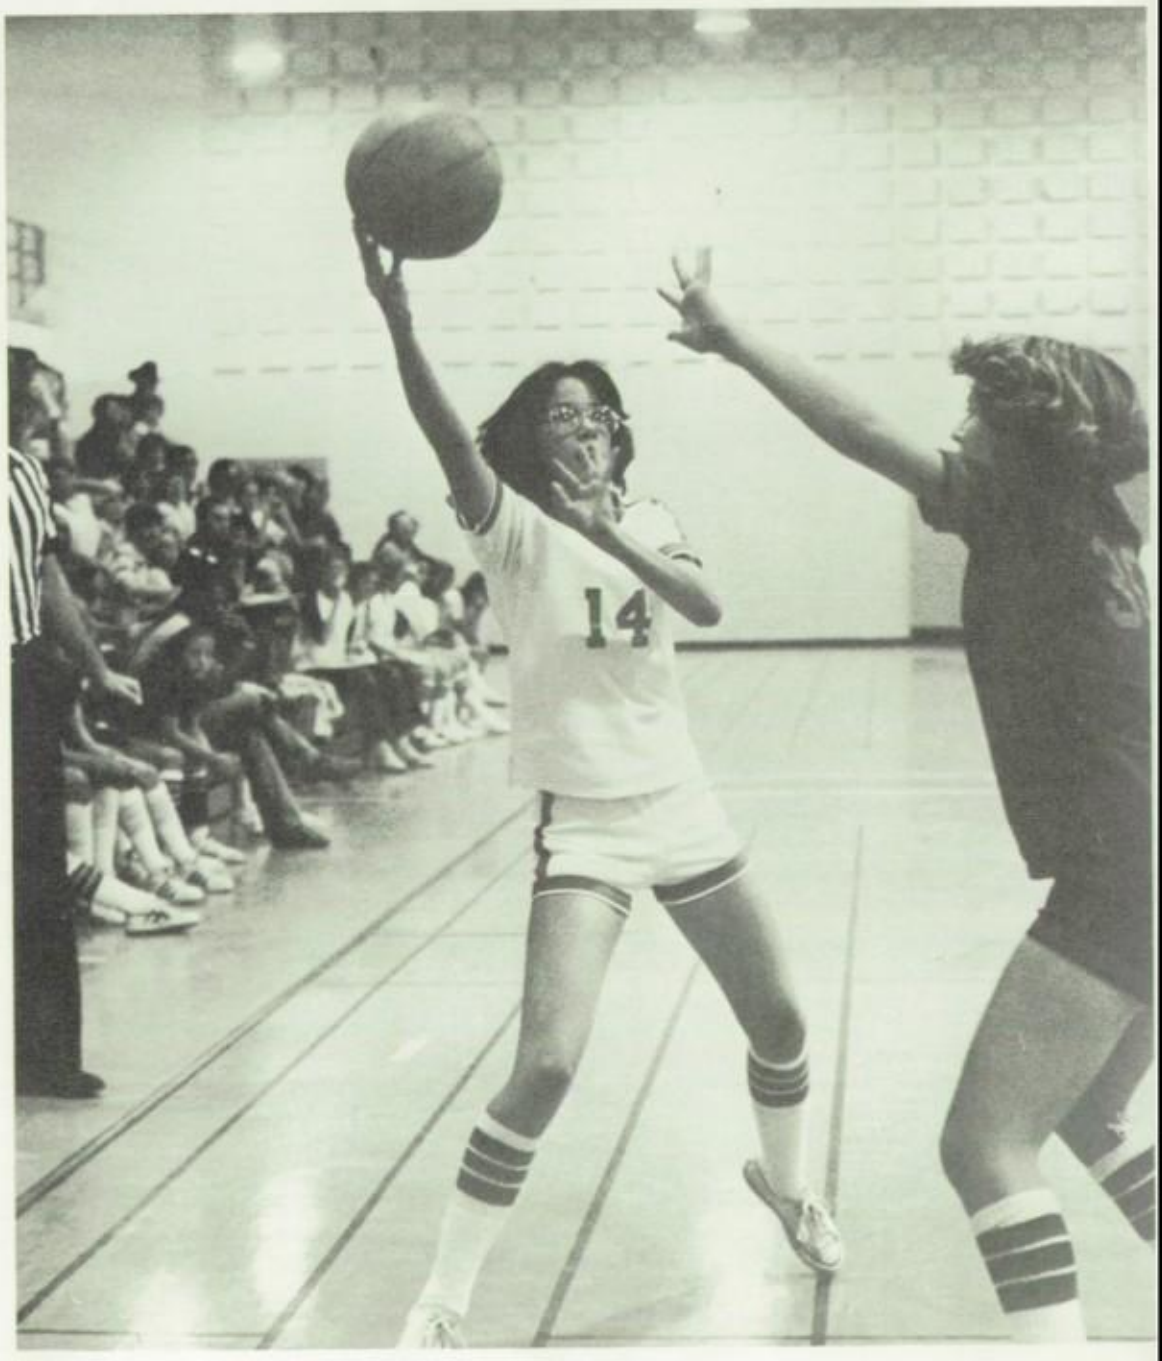

Girls Basketball starts out winning

Girls Basketball made it's debut at Browne this year when girls with no high school experience whatsoever came out to take on opponents never seen before.

John Padilla took second place in the heavyweight division and Brian Rognholt took third in the 141 pound class. Special recognition goes to senior Mitch Rognholt who went to the state tournament four years in a row.

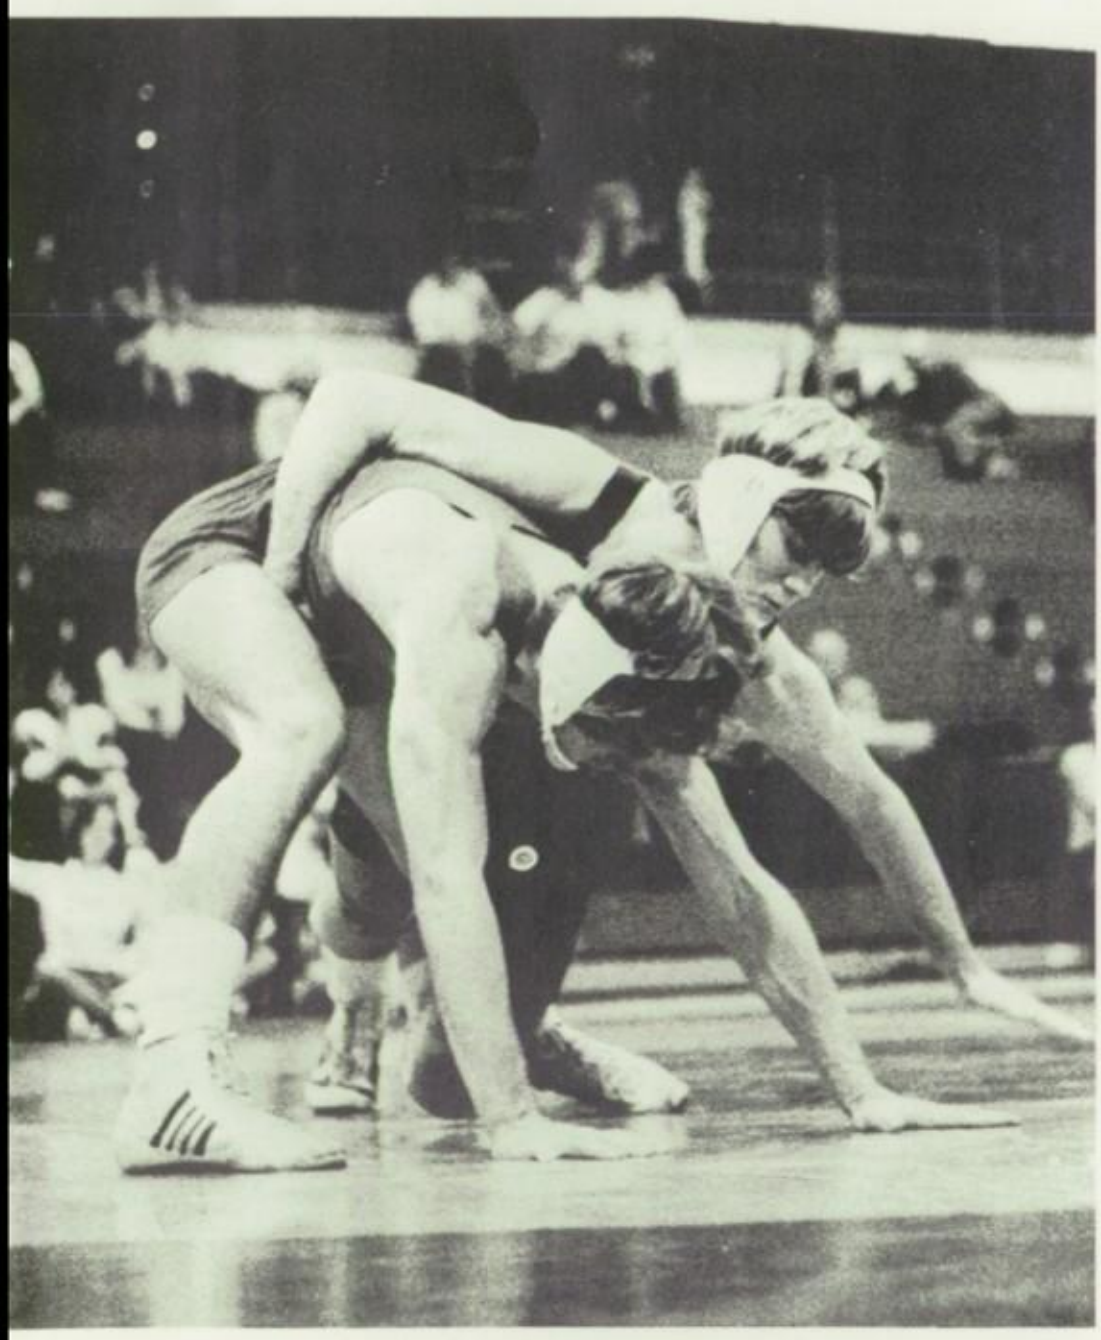

The state Tournament brought some stunning placed sixth in tournament play.

Academics

academics (ak'ə-dem'ik) adj. 1. Theoretical, as opposed to practical; speculative; often used disparagingly.

Mr. Black; Principal

John Black was a principal for six years before coming to Browne for the position when it first opened 7 years ago. He's been principal for 13 years altogether. He wanted to come to Browne to work because he felt it was a good opportunity that would allow him to start out a school using his own ideas, and to design everything at Browne that he wished to. He said "I knew that I would never get an opportunity like this again." And so he took the job.'

When looking at his views on education he feels that there are 3 standards that are very important. First, you need to understand your history and culture to be able to understand the future. That's history and government play a very important part in education. Second, you need the basic skills to survive in life, and an education will fill that need. Last, but not least, education is needed in working towards a student's career.

A man with a job that covers many responsibilities is the associate principle, Dr. Larry Kelly. Some of the responsibilities are building the master schedule, working with counselors in developing the regestration system, developing the school budget, supervising the campus plant manager, cafeteria mgr., and the student bookstore. He also supervises class employees (excluding teachers). This involves the interviewing, selecting, hiring, and termination of these people. He also evaluates and observes teachers.

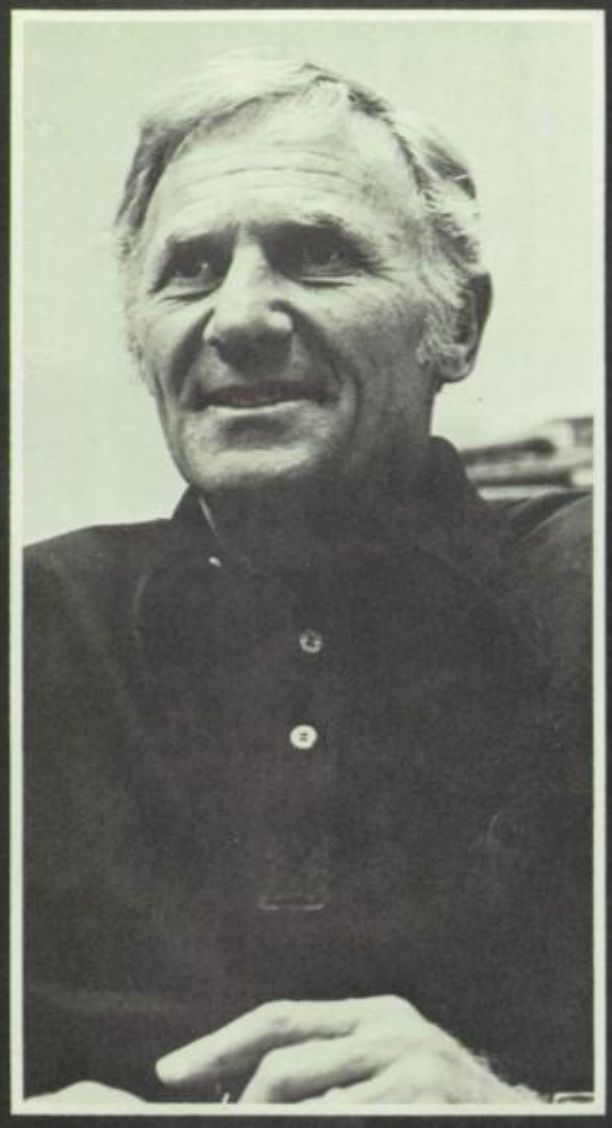

Dr. Kelly was administratively transferred to Browne, after working three years as associate principle at West High School, and, as he put it, "I have not regretted it. It's a very sound learning experience." He senses a positive attitude and spirit of cooperation among the faculty and staff. "I can't help believe that attitude carries on and imprints on the student. The attitude is generally carries over."

Mr. John Mansour has been student advisor at Browne for 2 years. He's in charge of student activities, sales, (at Browne, such as club bake sales, candy sales, etc.) events that go on at Browne, travel, he teaches a biology class, and, he's in charge of 80 to 85% of student discipline. He works directly with students in class activities, discipline, and counceling.

Mr. Mansour chose to work at Browne because it was an opportunity to get into administration. He likes Browne, in general, but most of all he likes the strong unity among students, positive enthusiasm, and the faculty cooperation.

He did consultant work in human relations and leadership, he's Executive Secretary of State Student Council Association and he's "74 years old, has 2 left feet, 1 wife, 3 kids, 1 dog and a '71 Chevy that just turned 100,000 miles. Oh yeah, and Trevor Browne has a great Yearbook Staff."

One of the busiest men on campus is Dick Jacobs, the athletic director of Browne. His job keeps him busy; going to meetings, and keeping the athletic department in order. He is responsible for determining the eligibility of the athletes who participate in athletics. He has to check up on each athlete to make sure that they have had a physical examination, hospital insurance, parental permission for emergency treatment. In addition, he is also responsible for getting coaches for supervision at all games.

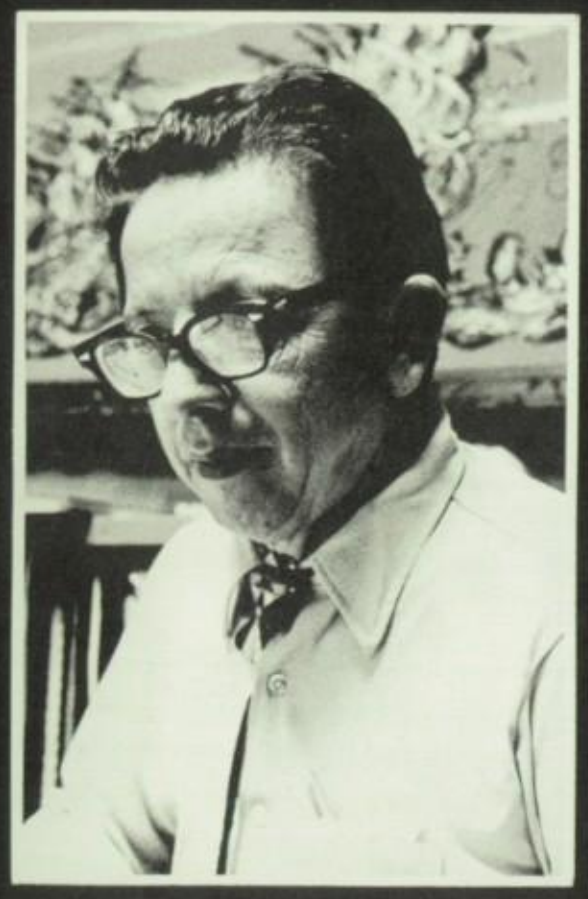

Before coming to Browne, Mr. Jacobs was an athletic dirin American International Schools for 8 years, 2 years in Afghanistan, 4 years in Holland, and 2 years in Pakistan.

Mr. Jacobs chose Browne to come to because "I wanted to be involved in a school with great potential for the future." He feels that Browne has a great future in all of its activities.

The Administrators and their ladies

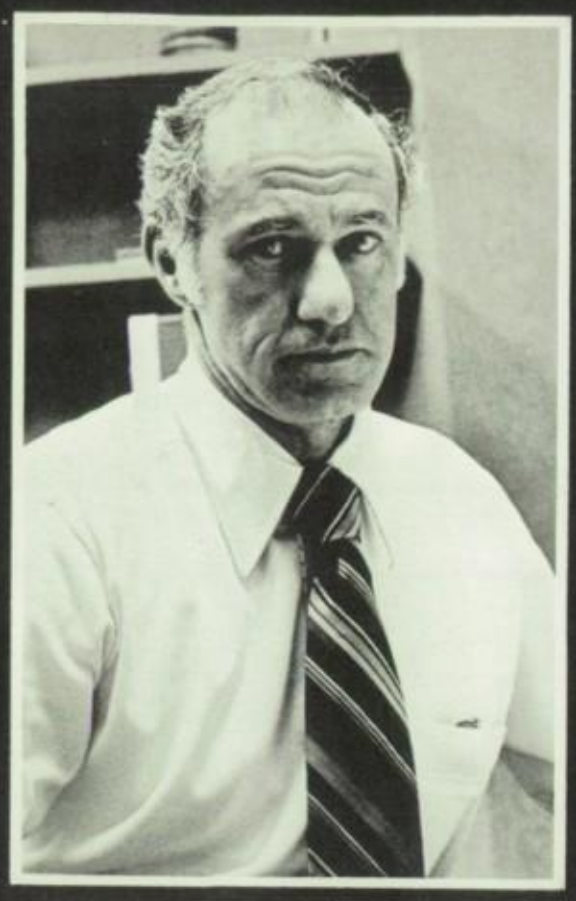

Raymond Flores; House 1

A new face on campus is the House 1 director Raymond Flores. Mr. Flores chose to come to Browne because he feels that the general attitude here is "more relaxed."

"I like the environment. It's not restricting like downtown where I was working." commented Mr. Flores. He last worked at Phoenix Union, where he worked at a job similar to that of a social worker.

Mr. Flores' job as the director of House one is to follow up on poor attendance patterns, and administering discipline according to the "Discipline Procedures" Book. One of his main features is working with Freshman in the English and Social Studies Department.

When asked if he had any dislikes at Browne, he answered "So far I haven't found any." But he does feel that there is a lot of loitering in the halls and wishes he could find a solution. To sum it up, he said with a friendly grin, "The food is good, the kids are good, and I enjoy the people I work with."

Mr. O'Connell; House 2

Mr. O'Connell, the House 2 director has been here since Trevor Browne first opened. The position appealed to him because Browne "Was a school that was going to try something different." He helped develop the programs that Browne would operate under, such as the House Concept. It originally was planned to create something like 3 small schools within one large one. It would give students a chance to identify with each other and their teachers more, and to increase closeness between them.

What he likes best about Browne is the informality. "I like the students. They're pretty honest. They either like you, or they don't like you; you know right away. There's no game playing."

The only thing he wants to change at Browne for the moment is the trimesters. He prefers semesters. He added "I wish more kids understood the House concept. It's an advantage they don't realize. The way it is now there's no real house identity.

Mrs. Hawkins; House 3

This is Carol Hawkins third year as the House 3 director at Browne. She applied for the position because she liked the way the House system is organized and the description of the job. Her main concerns as a house director are discipline; attendance; curriculum; contributions to the school as a whole, such as contributing to the policies and applying or upholding the rules.

She says that the main difference between the Houses are the staff. Often when the parents of oncoming freshman come down to talk to her and the other directors, they get to know the directors some what, and get a better idea of which part of the staff their child would work best with.

Mrs. Hawkins is basically a nonviolent person, and there are a couple of things at Browne that bother her. One is the lack of concern at keeping the campus clean, and the other is the lack of concern is some students towards other's feeling.

She'd like for Browne to work toward a better alternative for students that are having problems in school, and do more for them. And she'd like to help students realize the value of a high school education.

Field important in Science Curriculum

Once again the Trevor G. Browne Science Department was one of the most active departments on campus. Students and teachers alike made use of the facilities during the regular school day, after school, and on weekends.

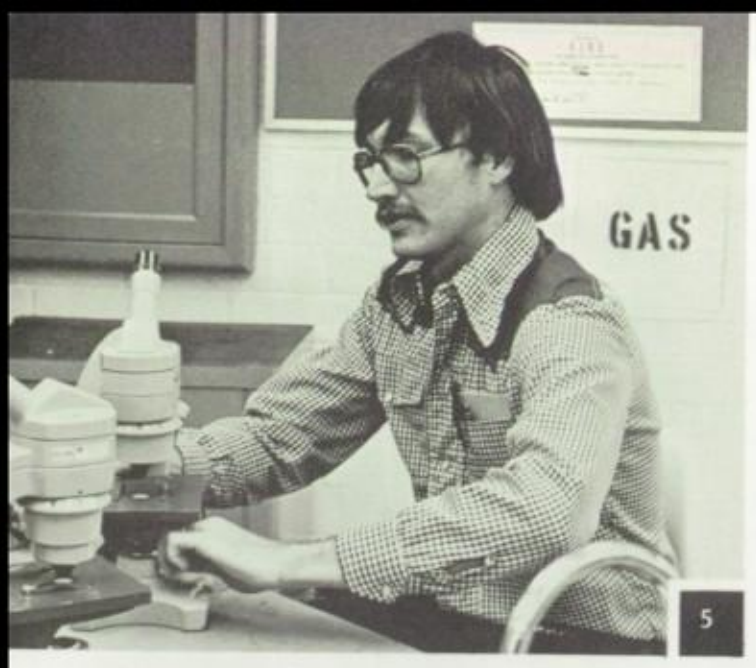

Approximately 1200 students were enrolled in the science classes of Earth Science, Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Astromony, Advanced Biology, and Independent Study. Each of the classes are based upon laboratory experiences.

Field trips were sponsored by the department to Kitt Peak Observatory and Sunflower, Arizona. Field trips were also a major part of the Science Field Club activities. Some of the places the club visited this year were the Chiricahua mountains, Havasupi Canyon, Bontantical Gardens, the planetarium in Tucson, and Payson, Arizona.

The department of mathematics continues to upgrade its curriculum by the addition of accelerated courses in Algebra 1 and Algebra 2. These courses are offered as self paced to allow students who are capable, to complete both courses in one years time, if they so desire.

The department insists on superior academic achievement for top grades, while spending time with slower students to learn basic skills.

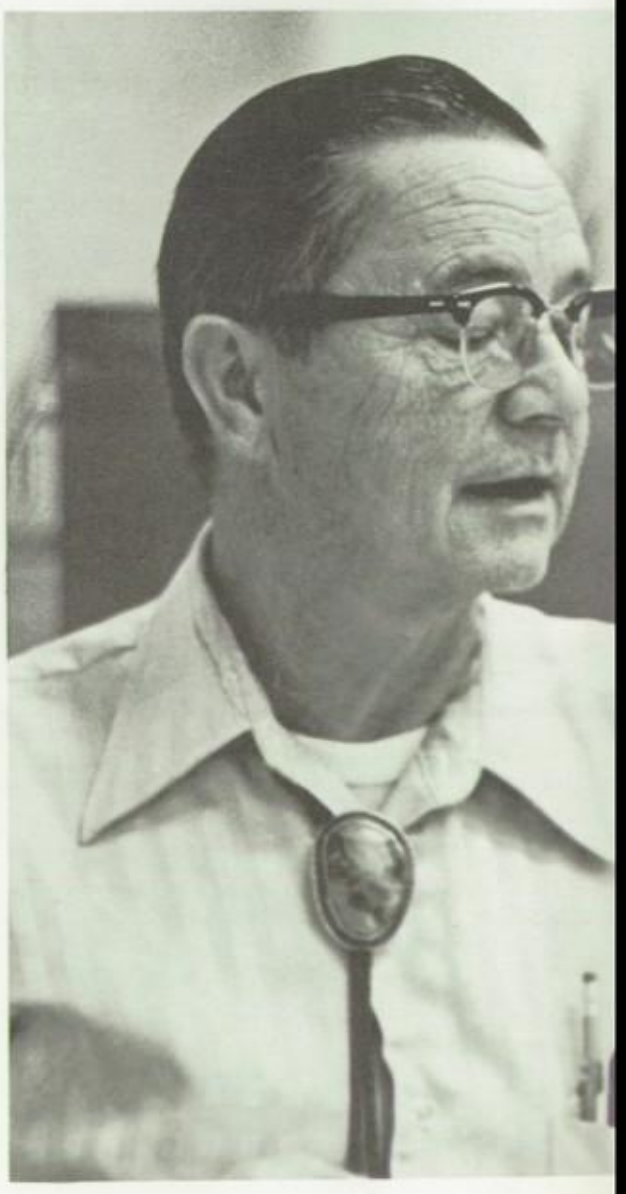

Because of a greater emphasis on the part of the teachers, attendance and promptness to class have been greatly improved.

Future officers training for Military Careers

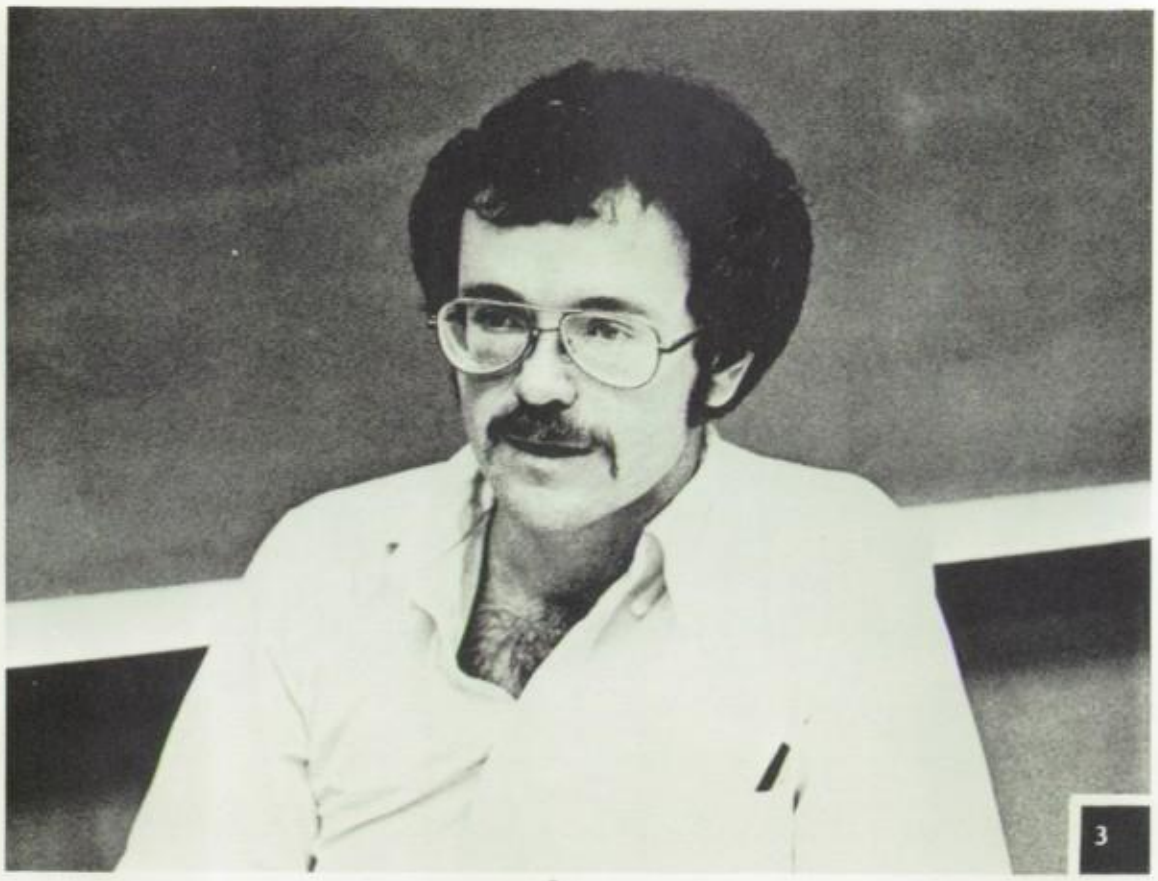

One of the fine programs offered at Browne is the Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps, headed by Sgt. First Class Fred S. King. The ROTC dept. has a strong program in training young men and women in leadership areas which will be beneficial in civilian and military careers after graduation.

Other activities include drill teams (which were rated #1 in Arizona and the 4th ROTC region; and won the Panther cup the past 4 years); Rangers, which is for cadets who are interested in carrying out field training exercise and Colorguard.

And for those interested in .22's there is a rifle team consisting of 8 students who polish their shooting skills in competing against other schools. Practice is held at Maryvale High School's shooting range, since Browne has not yet had one built. The Bruin Rifle Team was at one time a varsity sport pen to the whole school, but as it was cut out of the budget, it is now open to those enrolled in ROTC only.

For the first time in LAIR history, the yearbook had no problems. The book went into the company early and throughout the year the staff compiled the copy and layouts to end up a month ahead of schedule.

Advisor John Corlett was quoted as saying "It is the first time I've known a book to be on time, much less early"!

The staff did have a few barriers to get by though, (Janet and Danny) but after all the work was done, and then done again the right way, all came together to make one of the best books (if not the BEST) T.G.B. has ever seen.

Marching Bruins

The 1978-79 band has a new band director, Barry Black. Under his fine direction, the band received an excellent rating at ASU band day.

The popular activities among band members included decorating various houses with colorful toilet tissue, frequent visits to the local Village Inn, and our ever popular car washes.

Some of the other activities undertaken this year were band practices at 7:30 a.m., collecting 100,000 aluminum cans for fund raising, and the wonderful time we had playing in front of Lucky's.

The band plans on attending the U of A concert band festival with high hopes of receiving a superior rating.

Pam Segon

It was another exciting year for the Poms. They did it all from camp to assemblies, football to basketball, the Poms performed with enthusiasm and spirit. From the first time the 78-79 pom line met at their initiation last April through to their last halftime show they have laughed, cried, and worked very hard to support athletics at Trevor Browne.

The Poms made a clean sweep at camp. They attended a World Cheerleader Council clinic at ASU. They came home with three superior ribbons and where voted by the other pom squades to receive the Pep Pennet for outstanding achievement in spirit and leadership. To top it all off Donna Farnsworth was asked to be a WCC instructor next year.

Viva La cheers!

One of the highest honors which can be earned in high school is a position on the Varsity Cheer line. As tradition eight girls were selected, but only two could survive. Through new leadership the girls have come to know each other under many different circumstances never knowing whether they were being hustled or hasseled. Their personalities were wide ranged but their concern for each other and the teams they supported was true blue and they enjoyed leading the teams to victory.

As usual the Cheers packed up and went off to camp in California. But their stay was short lived, and they all waved bye-bye to four eyes. The Cheers have earned everything from a spirit stick at camp to the respect and admiration of the administration and their loving sponsor Joanne. As shown through their crazy pictures, this year has been a memorable one for the Cheers, and surely no one is bound to forget it soon.

JV strives for major leagues

Becky Adams

As the minor leagues are to the major leagues in baseball so are the JV Cheers to the Varsity cheers.

The JV Cheer line serves as a preparation towards the responsability and honor of being a Varsity cheer. The JV Cheers are the backbone of an ever increasing school spirit.

As these six girls will agree this year has been a hard one with little recognition, but they have all developed and learned to work as a productive unit, and now they are ready for Varsity, if they wish to continue.

Friendship is the only cement that will ever hold the world together.

Self expression

Modern Dance is a beautiful and expressive art form. Efforts are made toward helping students to discover movement as a means of expression and development of ideas.

A great deal of time and effort is spent each year on an annual modern dance concert. Dancers from all levels become involved as dances are choreographed, learned, and tried-out for concert.

Although the dance classes here at Browne require a lot of hard work, they are fun, exciting, and challenging. It also builds stamina and teaches self-control. If you must dance, you will dance. You will find the dedication to survive.

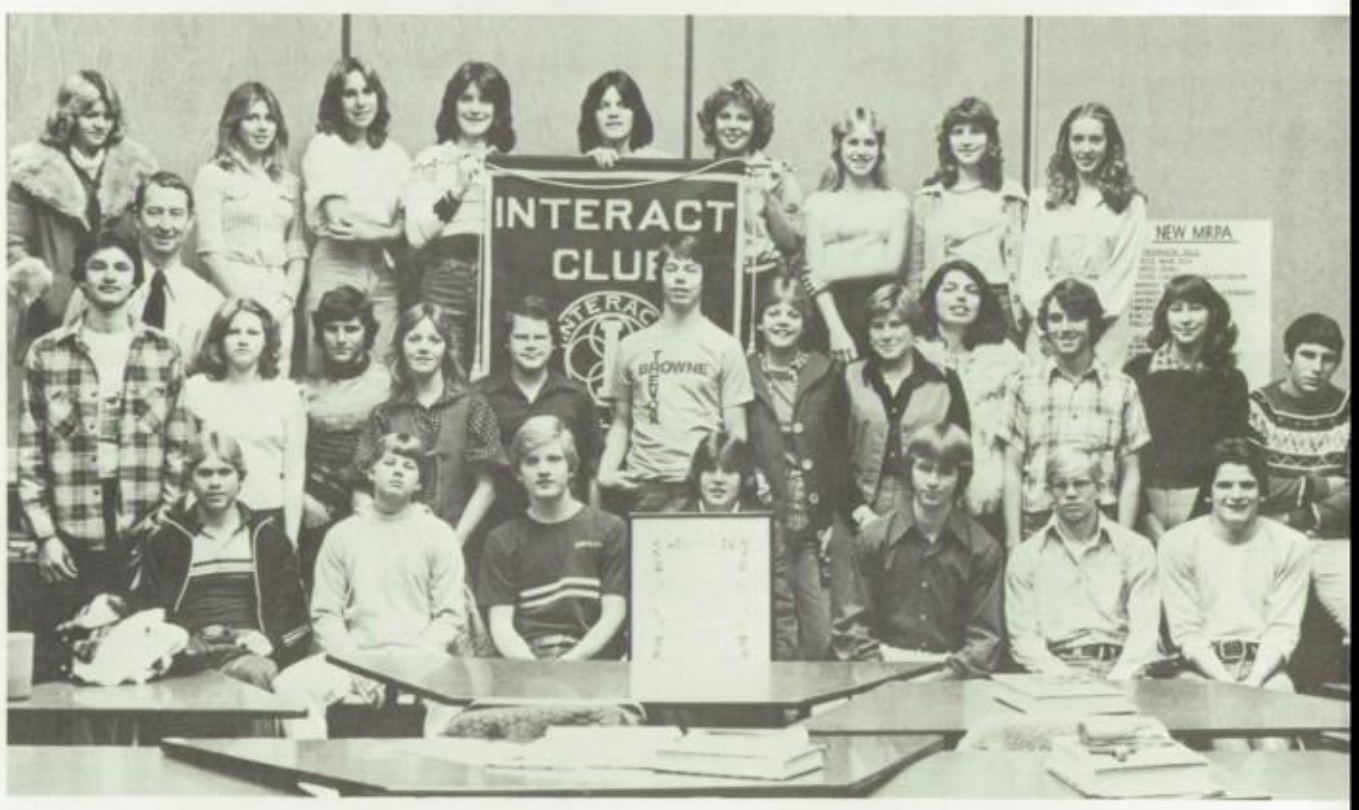

As choreographer Robert Joffrey once said, "Perhaps that's why dancers are able to accomplish such wonderful things, unbelievable things, really. They take their bodies and push them to heights almost beyond imagination. They cannot bring themselves to say 'cannot do that."

Interact Club

INTERACT is a service club. We do projects that help the school and community and the people. We try to promote international understanding and peace among nations by one international project each year. Our motto is, "I shall pass through this world but once, any good therefore that I can do, or any kindness that I can show to any human being let me do it now. Let me not defer or neglect it. For I shall not pass this way again."

The Humanities Club meets on a regular basis to encourage participation in and appreciation for the arts. Members attend concerts, art museums, lectures, and dramatic productions. The City of Phoenix, Arizona State University's Lyric Opera Company, Phoenix Little Theater, and Scottsdale's Center for Performing Arts are some of the agencies that provide funding that enables the Humanities Club to attend functions at reduced prices.

Arsenic and Old Lace, The Phoenix Symphony, Messiah, the Nutcracker Ballet, and Shakespear's A Midsummer Nights dream are a few of the events attended this year by club members.

Parlez-vous français?

Je Parle Français. Et vous? To many students, these words are common. To many others they are foreign. Have you taken a foreign language? Foreign language at Browne has taken off in enrollment. Students eager to learn about other cultures and people are seen all day long in the carosels of the department.

The French, German, and Spanish clubs are among the most active clubs on campus. They visit restuarants of their respective countries. They learn about students in other countries, and they even have an exchange program.

V.I.C.A.

One-the-job training, a chance to earn pay while learning a trade and get a credit in school is what V.I.C.A. is all about. The program utilizes the industries and businesses of the community as training stations. This years V.I.C.A. club was very busy. They used the money they earned this year to go skiing. They are a service club and have helped T.G.B. by beautifying the campus with trees and scrubs.

COE offers job experience

COE is a program used to provide students with paid job experience in the secretarial field. Students apply and are chosen at the end of their junior year to enter the program. Their training during the senior year consists of the COE class where they get further secretarial background and a job placement in the business community. This gives the students three hours of credit (1 for class, 2 for work). As a part of the total program these students also make up the COE club whose main functions are to raise funds for the end-of-the-year banquet to honor their employers, perform community service, and have fun. Some examples of the many activities include a volleyball tournament against Maryvale's COE and a three-day trip to California.

Speech course corrects coarse speech

Speech is a course designed to teach the skills or oral communication. Among the areas taught are oratory, debate, oral interpretation, and group speech projects. Students are graded on preparation as well as delivery. In addition to the classroom requirements, students are given the chance to participate in speech tournaments throughout the year.

Speech teacher Jim Hayden believes that this year's speech class is one of the best. He must be right, because speech student Ernie McCullar won first place at U of A and second at Winter Trophy for humorous interpretation. Brenda Ertel and Cindy Darnell made semi-finals for both poetry and prose.

M.E.CH.A.

M.E.CH.A. meaning El Movimiento Estudiantil Chicano do Aztlan is an organization for the Mexican American student's to get involved with all sorts of activities on and off the school ground.

The M.E.CH.A. Club is involved in the Cinco de Mayo celebration. Cinco de Mayo is an Independence day for Mexico which is celebrated every year on May 5. In this celebration such activities are held as Mexican Folklorico Dancing and Fiestas. Also different types of sales around campus were held to raise money for the club. With this money, M.E.CH.A. held picnics and trips.

These activities were enjoyed throughout the entire school year, only because we made them fun and exciting.

Yea! Boosters

A small group dedicated to a single goal can work wonders. This best describes the Booster Club at Trevor Browne. They support all activities that are in need of financial, psychological, and personnel resources. Service is their reason for being. They believe in the purpose of a high school and put their time and money on the line to prove it.

Ask the participants who traveled to Washington, D.C. supported by some funds from the Boosters. Ask any coach of athletics, band, yearbook, drama, how much their program is supplimented. Ask the administration who they seek for support on community activities, etc. All these groups would give a hearty Yea! for the existance of the Boosters.

The Cubby Hole is a small retail stores that gives students at Browne a chance to learn how to learn how to run a register, work with people and learn how to meet the needs of consumers that are buying merchandise.

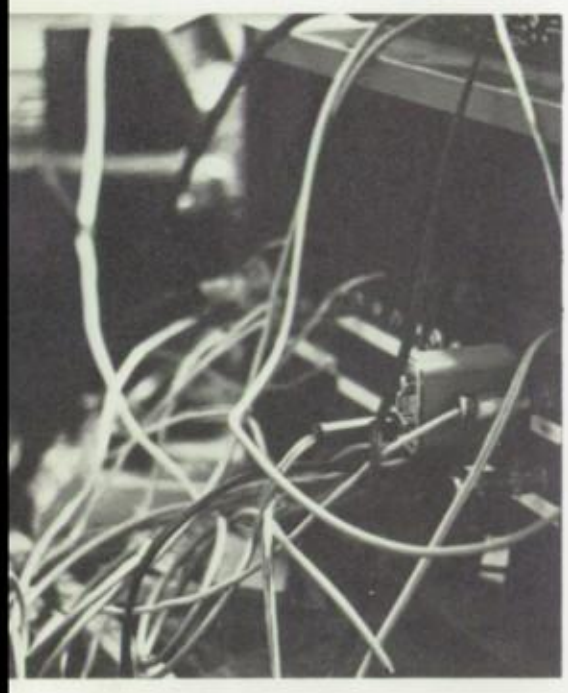

Also, it benefits the students all over the school so they are able to purchase anything from paper ad pencils to stuffed animals and birthday cards.

Bear Facts

Bear Facts, has done admirably in the service of our students by bringing the news of campus life to the school and community while offering an opportunity for students to express their opinions. (Usually that of the staff itself.) The Newspaper Staff of any high school must walk carefully to avoid censorship, apathy from students, and financial disaster from lack of sales and advertising. Bear Facts has had a few problems, stemming from the attitudes of the staff itself. As in past years, the newspaper is plagued by late stories, useless headlines, and copy not yet corrected.

The Editor, Cheryl Fischer, has led her staff down the road to journalistic disaster. One of the most interesting parts of the paper (if any are available) is Cheryl's VIEWPOINT in which she innocently rips whoever she pleases and then absent mindedly forgets to sign the column. Yet again we will say that "She is well liked."

There are those few staffers who do put in a dying effort though. These are the reporters of tomorrow. The mature journalist does not let personal opinion interfere in the professional work that he or she does.

Mrs. Weiler, (sponsor) has been a great help and inspiration to these children. For the first time the paper has come out with the heading date that is the same as the actual date. Even though the newspaper is small it does have a variety of stories for all.

Now as we all look forward to a bigger and better year, we hope and pray that the new aspiring reporters will strive harder next year, that the "photographers" will learn the basic photo techniques next year, and we all hope that we will get along better NEXT YEAR.

Dalenburg—close-up

Lela Camarillo

My high school years were probably not much different than anybody else's, and I am sure it would be impossible to give any sort of complete description of what they were "like." Aside from my regular classes, I have been involved in the Varsity band and several Thespian productions (including The Diary of Anne Frank). This year, I took a calculus class at Glendale Community College for one semester and was happy to get a "1". This gave me an idea of what college classes will be like. I must say my senior year has been my best year in high school—more for personal reasons than anything else, because it has been the worst as far as classes go.

My best experiences in high school probably revolve around the teachers and classes I have liked best. Of these, my work with Mr. Hill, Mrs. King, Mr. Snodgrass, and Mr. Hanley has been the most rewarding. I can also bow to Mr. Bishop and Mr. Jordan as two of the finest teachers in the school. Alas, for the most part, T. G. B. is a mine of intellectual stagnation. Much of this, however, is inherent in public education. My worst experiences in my four years have come from this bureaucratic red-tape and a wishy-washy administration with an unwillingness to discipline an often apathetic and delinquent student body—in short, to actually "educate".

Marylin Cammizzi

My greatest interests are literature and music, and I have done a great deal of writing. I would someday like to be a published author. But as for now, I shall probably begin college as a pre-med student. I have been aiming to attend Johns Hopkins or Occidental, but more and more lately I have been considering the University of Arizona as the most desirable and logical choice.

High School was a lot of fun. I met some real good people and I wouldn't trade my high school years for anything.

I don't know yet how my senior year will be yet but I hope to get a baseball scholarship this year and continue in baseball. I really don't want to want to graduate, 'cause I'll miss all my friends that I was used to seeing everyday.

The only complaint I could have is that there isn't enough school spirit and participation in some things. Every home game our gyms and football stadiums should be packed. (With our fans, not theirs.) But other than that the other aspects of this school were really great. An idiot could graduate from this high school but on the other hand if a guy wants the academic help or is interested, we have a good staff of teachers. I think it is one of the best schools in the city.

I played basketball and baseball and was looking forward to a good baseball and basketball team. I really like Coach Hahn and Coach Ashley even though they are as different as night and day. Both of them have their own unique ways about them, and they are both good friends as well as coaches to me.

I really have nothing bad to say about the school. I'm glad I got into sports and I really like my coaches and friends. And like I said before; I wouldn't trade my high school years for anything. I'll come back many times even after I've graduated. Also, I would tell any freshman to be, to go to BROWNE!

Trevor Browne High School. . . I can still remember when I was in the eighth grade and I was preparing my class schedule for my freshman year. I was anxious, excited, and dismayed, all at the same time. The fall of 1975 rolled around and I began my first year of high school. It was confusing to be a freshman. The atmosphere and the surroundings were very different but I caught on quickly. My freshman schedule was freshman block, algebra 101, home economics and P.E. As you can tell I had plenty of time to sit out by the picnic tables and flirt! I never missed a football game, basketball game or a party.

I had several high points during my freshman year. Pam Shumacher, Sharon Phillips and I went to a breakfast meeting with Mr. Black, Our school Principal. We spent the day with him to gather information for our block class project, "A day in the life of a school principal." Ahh memories. . .

I played Varsity volleyball and softball when I was a freshman. One day, before practice, a couple of my buddies carried me into the boys lockerroom. They leaned against the door firmly and I had no chance for escape. I was finally rescued by the elderly man who took care of the cage room. His departing words were, "If I ever catch you in here again, I'll make sure that you get suspended for a long, long time!" So much for my rescuer. Continued On Page 287.

Murphy — Close-up

I think my biggest mistake was missing a lot of classes, that really effected my grades. Hanging around the picnic tables seemed to be the only worthwhile thing in life. It was fun at the time and as far as running around and being a wild woman is concerned, my sophomore year surpassed the rest, Chasing men, cruising Central and going to parties were the thing . . . boy did I love to play! But when it comes to being happy with myself and doing and learning the things "I" wanted to; my senior year was by far the best. I found a person has to rely on himself and do the things the things he truly enjoys instead of going along with what everyone else is doing. That's what's nice about your senior year, you can do whatever your little heart desires! I fell in love, took up photography, drew lots of pictures, got a job, finally made honor roll, cleaned my room a couple of times, took terribly hard classes (belly button 501, bow tieing 201, and sock sorting 401) and always made sure I was home by 12:30 to watch Barney (Andy Griffith). All in all it was an exhausting year. I feel as though I gained some knowledge here at Browne, somewhere, I just can't figure out what. My four years at Browne have been a pain, but a nice pain because Ive come out on top, believe it or not, and the only way to go is up. I'm sure at some time of my life I will miss Browne, like 20 years from now while I'm sitting by my pool at my California mansion. Oh well, so much for the four years of vigorous studies and staunch play.

I think my favorite year of high school was my sophomore year here at Trevor Browne. I could act crazy and sometimes really dumb and I didn't care because I didn't have to act like an old sophisticated Senior yet!

I'm through now with all the pushing, laughing, yelling, and explaining that goes along with the four years you spend in high school. It feels like a relief, but then, I feel sad because of all the friends and good times I'll be missing when I graduate.

My senior year has been a little bit of a struggle. I'm always trying to get my work in on time and do it well to make sure I graduate!

I have enjoyed Mrs. Wieler's journalism class the most this year, she has made writing appeal to me very much. I often just sit and listen to the stereo while I try to write poems.

By the time you become a senior, you've grown out of your little girl or boy ways and started realizing that you have to accept people for what they are way down deep, not what you see on the outside!

Its been fun, and sometimes boring, but I will always remember Trevor Browne, the school where I made my biggest accomplishment so far.

Sieverding—Close-up

It was a kind of hard decision for me to come over here and leave my family and friends back in Germany. When I attended school the first days I saw how I was out from the old world around me, what I was used to . I couldn't find my classes and when I talked to other students I couldn't understand them and they were wondering what I was trying to say. Even to open my locker I had trouble.

But after some days I found my way around by myself. I got to know a lot of people and I tried to carry on conversations, it sounded funny. I think after a while I made myself understandable.

It took me longer to find some real friends, I mean people I can talk to about all kinds of things that bother me or them. Since I was alone over here I was sometimes glad that I could share things with friends and my new family. Trevor Browne gave me lots of possibilities often strange and new for me, but I joined many of them and afterwards I got to like the clubs and people. I was living with people who have often totally different ideas and then I thought of my own ideas and about myself I discovered more and more about my own personality and about relationships to other people and about relationships between people themselves.

GORK & BOO FOREVER!

Especially for - Him

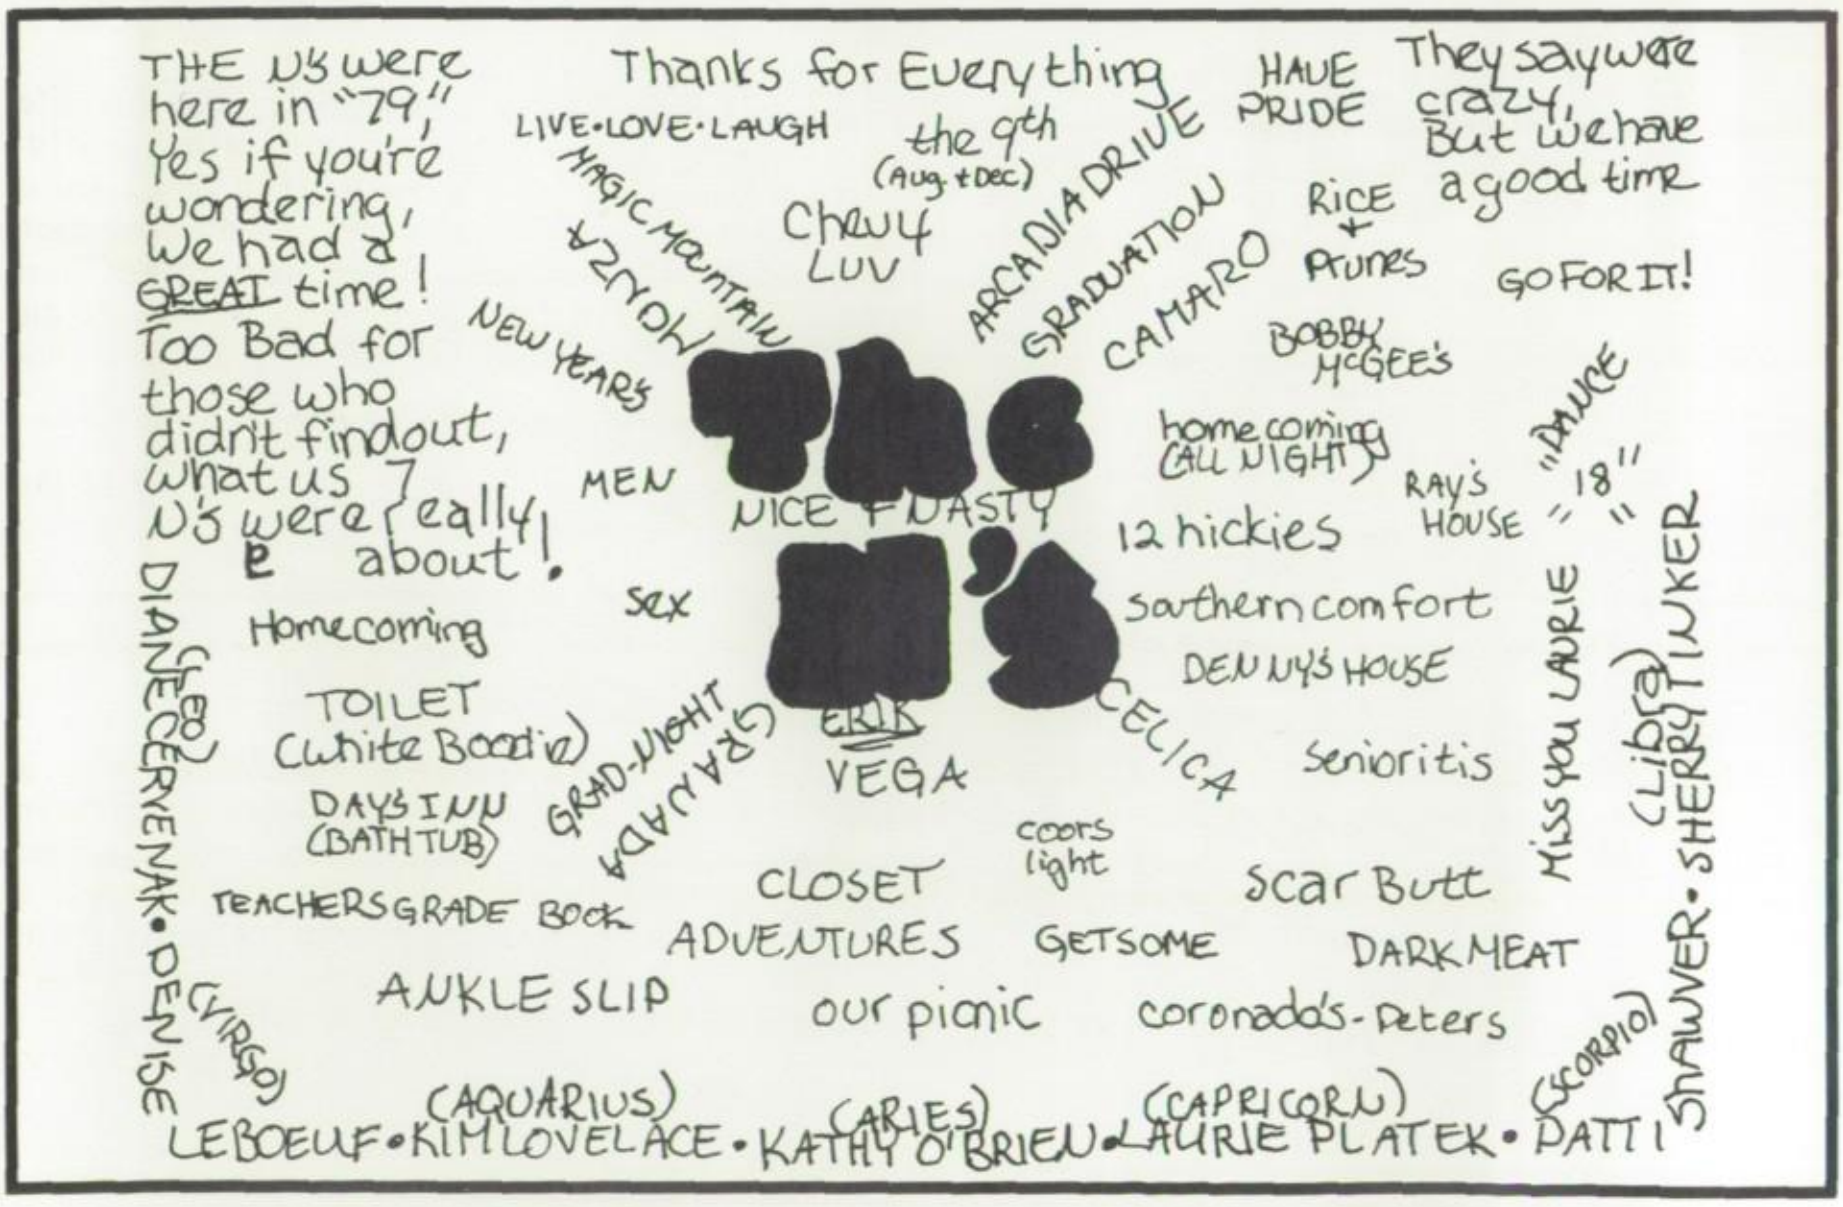

We meet one day and fell in love that couldn't last. We didn't think ahead. We just let each day pass. Together we made a mistake which changed our lives, for now, two young kids have a baby on their minds. What we did was beautiful, but our feelings were only ourside, instead of our heads to be wise. We cried with each other, trying to determine what to do. For we both realized our love wouldn't pull our baby through. But now it isn't we anymore, and you have found another and your sure you can score. No more problems for you, you can just walk out. Leaving me with everything to be worked out. I have three months to go, I've got to do it all alone. Now when our baby's born, I will raise it on my own.

My Senior friends,
This is your final year.
To be faced with many hopes,
And faced with many fears.

This is my chance,
To say a last goodbuy.
And hope that your memories,
Of me will never die.

You have all worked so hard,
To make the final grade.
But the joy that you've brought,
Will somehow never fade.

You're the ones that I'm so proud of
You really make life shine.
I wish much good luck,
To the class of "79."

Bonnie Barney—Close-up

My fondest memory of being a freshman was when I became Forest Valora's girlfriend. He was the big football hero and I fell madly in love with him. Our romantic relationship lasted about ten days. He was my first high school love, it was great!

When I became a sophomore I was more serious about my academic studies. My music required intense practice, so many of my free hours were involved in practicing the piano. I began to look ahead toward college and I knew that it would take careful planning to make the right decisions for my next three years.

Even though I began to "hit the books", I still enjoyed my sophomore year. I was in a vaudeville show and I played the piano for the Thespians presentation of "My Fair Lady" I also participated in the operettas "H.M.S. Pinafore" and "The Mikado." I joined the concert choir and I still played varsity volleyball and softball. At the finish of our volleyball season, the team had an overnight party in the gym. Jenny, Beebe, Sherry, Cindy and I had a fantastic night. We were all feeling great. We played basketball and watched T.V. We slept on the gymnastic mats and the free throw line. That was a night that I will never forget.

I met a very special person when I was a sophomore. His name is Randy and he was a senior that year. Randy is the type of person who gets along with everyone. He was a good friend and a great inspiration.

High school offers many benefits for every individual. My favorite benefit has been the wonderful opportunity to meet people. Some of my strongest relationships have developed with students and teachers at Trevor Browne.

I grew emotionally that year. When you are a sophomore, you finally begin to realize that there is no turning back. It is a time to face life with more of a mature outlook.

I underwent quite a change my junior year. I became very active in my church and I studied my music heavily. I feel that I really "got down to business" last year. I became very aware of my academic situation and I knew it was actually time to think about college. Many students don't realize the amount of time and energy that can be spent on preparing for college. It's mind-boggling!

I became very good friends with a couple of my teachers last year. Mr. Washburn, the choir director, is just like a second dad to me. He and his wife are always there when I need them. It is really neat to be able to be close friends with your teachers. Teachers are people, you know, and they all have personalities.

My sociology teacher has been a great friend. We've had some good discussions and I always learn something from what he tells me. It is very important to have friends who are several years older than you. You can learn so much from them. Many times, it is easier to talk with them than with your parents or your best friend. Thanks . . .

My senior year has definately been my best. I took six classes and they all kept me very busy. Once you become a senior, you feel like you've reached the top, yet at the same time you know that your life is just beginning. There are several important decisions that you will make during your senior year. You think about moving out of your home and some people think about marriage. There are so many different things that you can do after high school. To me, it is extremely exciting.

Many nice things have happened for me this year. I received several tuition waivers from different colleges and I have had outstanding honors in my music. Also I sing in a new group called "New Beginning." We will be singing in Canada this summer.

I've had my humorous experiences too. The concert choir had its first annual Rock-a-thon. It was executed during the beginning of the school year. The Rock-a-thon was thirty hours long but I only rocked for about twelve hours. The location was behind the Sambo's in the shopping center on the corner of 75th Avenue and Indian School road. Several people rocked in their rocking chairs, continuously, for thirty hours. It was wild and crazy!

My advanced biology class has been most enjoyable. The class had seventeen students in it and our teacher was Mr. Jordan. We dissected everything from clams to pigs. I think our toughest dissection was the grasshopper. Instead of cutting the grasshoppers, several of us cut ourselves. (That does include me.) Mr. Jordan also told some great jokes. (Ha Ha!)

I have never gotten into any serious trouble since I've been at Browne High, but this year, I marred my clean record. One afternoon, security called me up to their office and I had really done it that time. I parked in the wrong parking lot. I thought that I might have to serve some time but they let me off with a stern lecture and a parking sticker.

I feel that I know where I'm going with my life. Often I find myself daydreaming and reminiscing about the great times I've had at Browne, These four years have been and will always be a great influence on my future. Thank you for letting me be a part of your life.

"Look to this day! For it is life,
The very life of life
In its brief course lie all the vari eties
And realities of your existence.
The bliss of growth,
The glory of action,
The splendor of beauty,
For yesterday is but a dream
And tomorrow a vison of hope.
Look well, therefore, to this day!"

Shaving Cream, Chickens And Superman

Were you one of the lucky ones who got shaving cream all over you or perhaps a rooster in your locker. Were you shocked to see guys in dresses on slave day. We bring you this page to help you remember those happy times. Such as the library being flooded; Going to Magic Mountain in stead of going to Disneyland; football team almost making it; getting hit in the face with a water ballon; speed bumps all over the parking lot; Superman returns; Styx; Linda Rondstant; Kansas; if you didn't remember these things, you do now.

Gazing through the windows of lost time;
We can only hope to find
A place to start,
A place to begin,
A place to go.
Just sitting, gazing, losing time won't help you find that place you need to go.

lair[1] (lâr) n. A resting place or den, especially that of a wild animal: A Bruin.
